Law Does Not Change The Negro.

At a great mass meeting in New York one night last week, among the speakers, were Ex President Cleveland and Booker Washington, the colored teacher. Pres. Cleveland said in part: "I do not believe that either the decree that made slaves free or the enactment that suddenly invested them with the rights of citizenship, any more purged them of their racial and slavery bred imperfections, deficiencies than they changed the color of the skin. I believe that among the nearly nine millions of negroes who have been intermixed with our citizenship, there is still a grievous amount of ignorance, a tremendous amount of laziness and thriftlessness. I believe that these conditions are ever present to the white people of the United States to each in his own environment and under the mandate of good citizenship, a problem which neither enlightened self-interest nor the higher motive of human sympathy will permit them to put aside. I believe our fellow countrymen in the southern and late slave-holding states, surrounded by about nine-tenths, or nearly eight millions of this entire negro population, and who regard their material prosperity, their civilization interwoven with the negro problem are entitled to our utmost consideration and sympathetic fellowship."

The notable utterance ought to be an eye-opener to the rampant pant northeners who are meddling with the negro question in the south, adds the Marietta Journal.

How to Raise a Boy.

Sometime ago a leading paper asked the question, "How to raise a Boy," published many answers. A mother's answer, blended in a few words love, poetry, religion and philosophy: "Nurse in the arms; guide with tact; teach with care; holding him above temptation with the strongest strength—a mother's love."

The question being asked an old black mammy, the following answer fell from her lips.

"Ef you's got to raise him by han his mighty hard. Some say cow's milk, some say 'densed milk. I likes goat milk best. When he gets ter eatin' gravy and hominy, and holdin' er chicken he's mighty high as good as raised, he kill his self when he git big enough ter eat green apples and plums."

Her reply was based on experience.

The Evening of Life.

When the summer day of youth is slowly wasting away into the night-fall of age, and the shadows of past years grow deeper and deeper, as life nears to its close, it is pleasant to look back through the vista of time upon sorrows and felicities of our earlier years.

If we have a home to shelter and hearts to rejoice with us and friends have gathered together around our firesides, then the rough places of our wayfaring will have been worn and smoothed away in the twilight of life, while the sunny spots we have passed through will grow brighter and more beautiful.

Happy indeed are they whose intercourse with the world has not changed the tone of their inner feelings or broken those musical chords of the heart whose vibrations are so melodious, so tender and touching in the evening of old age.—Thrill.

Bryan On Immortality.

Here are William J. Bryan's ideas of immortality. They are fit to be preserved in every scrap book, and repeated to the children and grown people alike. He says: "I shall not believe that this life is extinguished. If the Father designs to touch with divine power the cold and pulseless heart of the buried acorn and make it burst forth from its prison walls, will He leave neglected in the earth the soul of a man, who was made in the image of his creator? If He stoops to give the rosebush whose withered blossoms float upon the breeze one sweet assurance of another springtime, will He withhold the words of hope from the sons of men when the frosts of winter come? If matter, mute and inanimate, though changed by the force of nature into a multitude of forms, can never die, will the imperial spirit of man suffer annihilation after it has paid a brief visit, like a royal guest, to this tenement of clay?"

"Rather let us believe that He who is in His apparent prodigality wastes not the raindrops, the blade of grass, or the evening's dying zephyr, but makes them all carry out His plans, has given immortality to the mortal."

Here is the experience of a farmer near Centralia. Ten years ago he put an X mark on a silver dollar and went to town and spent it with a merchant. Before the year was out he got the marked dollar back for poultry and spent it with a Centralia merchant. Four times in six years that dollar came home to him for produce and three other times he heard of it in the pockets of his neighbors. The last time he got it in change nearly four years ago, he sent it to Montgomery, Ward & Co., the Chicago mail order house that has amassed a hundred million dollars by selling third rate goods for second rate prices. He has not seen the marked dollar since and never will till the crack of doom. That dollar will never pay any more school or road tax for him, never help build up the town or country, never bless and brighten the homes of his neighbors. He sent it curiously out of the circle of its usefulness to him. Moral: Send your dollars where you will get a chance at them again; where they will help pay your taxes, build your bridges, educate your children and enhance the value of your farms.

Advertising Means Progress.

We believe that more advertising means more consumption; more consumption means more hustle on the part of consumers, which in turn means more production. The stoppage of all advertising on the part of the bicycle trust resulted in its complete failure, because people forgot to be interested in bicycles when they no longer read about them. No doubt a man would live pretty comfortably wearing a three dollar suit of clothes and eating corn meal, with an occasional piece of bacon, and possibly might be wiser to do so. But so long as better things are advertised he will come to the scratch and hustle to get some of them. Dissemination of information of almost all kinds is advertising in some form or other, although it may not be so intended. The advertisement is the key-note of advancement seems certain; that advancement means more happiness or not is beside the question.—Editor Advertiser, St. Louis.

The Ginseng Craze.

Twenty-five acres are said to comprise the commercial ginseng growing area of the United States, much of it being in two counties of New York. George Vandenberg has planted a fine garden of the root at Baltimore. Two farmers in Ohio raised one-third of an acre a crop that brought $15,000. A farmer in this State who had been raising cabbage at $2 a ton drove into town with a small buggy load of ginseng for which he got $1200. There are 400,000,000 Chinese, and all who can afford it use ginseng. The mystery of the root is its wide variation in price. While some sells readily at $4 a pound there are species that bring $100 an ounce. Cotsul Wildman says he has seen Mandarin ginseng that was worth 195 times its own weight in silver. The regular price is from $50 to $250 an ounce. The craze has advanced so far in this country that a monthly magazine called the Ginseng Garden has been started in advocacy of the culture.—New York Press.

His Home Town.

Next to a man's family and business nothing should stand dearer to a man's heart than the community in which he lives. It is his home. It is the place in which he earns his competence, and educates his children. If he wants to make it as popular, as thrifty and widely known as possible, he cannot afford to be indifferent to anything that will further these ends. It can be said that a town that is not worthy of the devotion of its citizens in making it widely and generally prosperous is a town in which it is not worth while to live at all. If a town is anything it is worthy of our greatest energy, whether we receive an immediate dividend in dollars and cents or whether we merely take our share in the common benefits accorded our home town.—American Recorder.

He Didn't Practise.

A Freemason in a somewhat unsteady condition set out to attend the meeting of his lodge. Arriving he knocked at the door and gave the pass word.

The guardian, who was a new hand placed his nose to the key-hole instead of his ear.

The visitor repeated the pass word—"Abstinence"—a second time, the door still remained unopened.

"Why don't you open the door? Haven't I got the right word?" shouted the infuriated member.

"Ay responded Sany, through the key hole, 'You've got the right word, man, but you've got the wrong smell.'"

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 7, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

Georgia's treasurer contains a balance of $528,239.85.

The taking of the Georgia census will begin about the first of June.

A torpedo plant at Cleveland, O., was blown up last week killing many people.

Last week burglars used dynamite on a safe at Grange, N. C., and got away with $8,500 in cash.

At Norwood, Ga., last week Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Messengale lost three children in five days of scarlet fever.

Charlie Phillips, col., was hanged in Dade county last Friday for killing another negro. Both convicts.

Young Willie Ramsar, 14 years of age, who killed his sister a few days ago at Colquitt, has been sent up for life.

Mrs. Marysilla Keith, died at Montgomery, Ala., last week aged 116, being the oldest person in that state.

Three students have been expelled from the Milledgeville college because they wouldn't march behind negro drummers.

Sims, the bank defaulter, if he behaves well will only have to serve four years, four months and twenty-four days, and it is believed he will have at least $40,000 when released from prison. At the prison he is acting as Capt. Petty's clerk, but will not likely be allowed to handle any money.

Mr. H. D. Jaquish of Gainesville, who is largely interested in mining in Lumpkin county, and Mr. Winslow of Chicago, paid a recent visit to the Windfall shoals on the Chattahoochee river at Garner's bridge, for the purpose of looking into the feasibility of making a dam across the river at that place to furnish power for an electric plant and for what purpose is not given out.

Work on the river line of the electric line is progressing rapidly, and cars are now running beyond the corporate limits of the city near Longstreet Heights. It is confidently promised that the line will be completed and cars running on schedule to the river by the first of June. The dam will be put in good shape for boats, and excursionists can in the summer have choice between a ride on an electric launch, bathing, swimming and fishing—Eagle.

Had Sims, the large bank defaulter, resided in China and done what he did he would have been headless, lying in his grave today instead of being a clerk in a Federal prison. In China they have very stringent laws among themselves about stealing. If a merchant is out of his store and a person goes in he takes what he wants, puts the money down, knowing the price, and steps out. Should he steal anything, for the first offense his ears would come off. For the second his head, which causes many more honest people there than in this country on account of our slack laws.

A few days after Judge Newman sentenced the $94,000 bank defaulter to serve in the Federal prison for a term of only six years, a young man named J. A. Townsend, who had stolen a mail sack from a grab at Constitution, appeared before him and entered a plea of guilty. Although this man after getting nothing of value and then went and gave up and confessed to the crime, he was given 15 months in the same prison, and no doubt will be put to hard labor. How unfortunate it was for this defendant that he didn't get many thousands of dollars, then he would have been giving a clerk's place maybe.

Mining Notes.

The annual meeting of the Consolidated Co. comes off next week.

In local column you will find 12 mineral and timbered lots of land for sale.

Mr. Estlin Whelchel, of the U. S. geological department, is here taking a general observation of the mining field.

Work was resumed on the Cavers Creek canal last Monday and every thing up that way presents a business like appearance.

The stockholders meeting of the Crown Mountain Company was postponed until today at noon so as to give Mr. Merrick, vice president, time to arrive.

What is called a log washer, to separate the sand from the fine ore, is now in operation down at Crown Mountain mill and all the stamps and everything else is in constant motion about the plant.

Those wishing to invest in valuable gold mining property in Cherokee county, Ga., should peruse the advertisement in this issue headed, "For Sale, Mining Lands." The property contains 2,400 acres of the best in the county.

Mr. Joe Smith was in town Monday with two of the nuggets that were taken out on the Consolidated Co's property near the Barlow a few weeks ago. The pocket contained 400 pennyweights of gold and these nuggets weighed 26 pennyweights, one 10 and the other 16.

At the Barlow Messrs. Tregent & Son are getting along splendid. The ore continues rich and good results are being made. At one place they are running two shifts. They have come along ways from the north to invest for the purpose of making mining a profit and we trust that they will meet with success on every hand.

A survey was made recently from the Hand canal down to the Barlow mine to ascertain what it would cost to put the water back on this valuable property. The Barlow is a good mine and all they need is plenty of water and good management. The company made a big mistake when it cut the water off of it a few years ago.

Superintendent Campbell is going right ahead with his mining down at the Singleton, belonging to the Standard Co. Mr. Campbell informs us that the ore is improving and he will soon be able to get out enough ore to keep the mill running pretty regularly. This is a very important point in mining. You may have abundance of ore and rich ore, but if you don't manage to crush it and keep the mill going it is worthless.

The launching of the Ingersoll dredge boat last Thursday was a perfect success. There were some thirty-five or forty persons present and when the ropes holding it were cut it slid off into the water and floated without any trouble. Mr. Choctaw Davis and Mr. John Moore were the only persons on it when it was launched. It was a short ride but they enjoyed it. Mr. Wm. Ricketts is the contractor and the workmanship is perfect in every particular. Mr. Keenan is now engaged in placing the machinery and it is expected that it will be in running order by the first of June.

We are glad to learn that a vein has been struck on the celebrated Loud property in White county, owned by Judge Reeves of Athens. Profitable placer work has been done there and thousands of pennyweights of gold unearthed. This is the first vein, we understand, that was ever discovered on the property. It is a good size vein of high grade, ore we learn, being worth from $15 to $55 per ton. A stamp mill is now in course of erection and a large quantity of ore is already out ready for it. Mr. W. H. Courtney has been in charge of this mine for Judge Reeves for many years and is pushing things along with a vim so as to get the mill ready. Judge Reeves was also on hand last week giving it his personal attention.

FOR SALE MINING PROPERTY.

A large gold property, in Cherokee county, is offered for sale at a reasonable price and on good terms. The tract contains 2,400 acres, all in a body. The several gold-bearing veins—five of which are opened by shafts, cross-cuts and tunnels—pass through the property for a distance of three miles. There are two creeks on the property, and a fine Water Power on the Etowah river, only 3 1/2 miles from proposed mill site.

Complete map, Mining Engineer's report and any further information desired, will be sent to any one interested. Address, P. O. BOX 64, Canton, Georgia.

Read and unanimously adopted by a rising vote.

Long before many of the citizens arouse from their slumbers Prof. Rogers, of the Agricultural department of the college, can be seen in the garden and field observing what is needed to be done first that day. The professor has everything about this department in good trim, showing that he is the right man in the right place. This is a very important branch of the college and learns the boys a practical knowledge of the business which they will never forget.

On last Saturday Sheriff Davis and Constable Walker brought in E. Woody of Union county, and lodged him jail until he made a one hundred dollar bond. They arrested him the night previous at his mother's house in that county. The defendant is charged with abandoning his wife, which occurred some time ago, when he took one of his wife's relatives and ran away with her. He put up $50 in cash with the sheriff and his brother signed his bond.

Our opinion was that some of the terms of members of the board of education of Lumpkin county expired with the last term of the Superior court, among them being Col. Price, but upon enquiry learn that it does not occur until the next term. If Col. Price will accept it we favor his re-appointment, for he has given the schools of this county more of his valuable time and accomplished a larger amount of good and advanced the cause of education to a greater extent in this section than any other citizen within its borders. The Colonel and the writer may have little differences about some things but this doesn't prevent us from speaking of beneficial acts that are so plain and convincing to us as the ones just stated.

A business gentleman in Canton, Ga., writing to us on a certain matter, makes the following complimentary remarks about the Nugget: "I have been reading your valuable paper for the past two years and find it interesting. You give more attention, I believe, to mining and industrial matters than any other newspaper in this section, and what you write, as a rule, is in my judgment, on about the right line."

The roof of the residence of Mr. Boyd Gurley caught a fire last Thursday about noon by a spark from a stove flue, and no doubt had it not been discovered when it was the biggest portion of the town would have been in ashes today, as the wind was blowing strong from the south and the building is situated in the southern corner of the square, just in the right place for the flames to catch from one building to another. Soon after the alarm was given many persons were on hand with from one to two buckets of water, and the flames were soon extinguished.

If anything is said in the Nugget that offends anyone a reply will be published by us free of charge. We have got a right to our views as well as any other person and do not hesitate to express them. We are not built any other way and have no mouth-piece. If those who differ with us about China and Africa will enquire a little they will find that the American people are being swindled out of thousands of dollars by the inhabitants of those countries. Mrs. Frank Griffin and Mrs. G. C. Wallace left on a visit to Ducktown last Tuesday.

Mr. Rex, who has been superintendent for the Consolidated Co., here for a long time, left here last Sunday.

You will find blanks at the ordinary's office if you want to fix for the return of your state and county taxes.

Some mischievous boys misplaced the college bell clapper Monday night, causing things to be very quiet in the tower since.

Still another lot of splendid stationery received at this office this week, ready to be printed upon short notice and at reasonable terms.

There will be but few grapes in this section, if any, as the vines and blooms have been damaged by the recent frosts, both wild and tame.

Both eggs and chickens here are entirely out of the reach of country editors. Eggs sold last week at 15 cents per dozen and hens 30 cents a piece.

Many of the young lady teachers attending the Normal course, visited the gold mining plants last Sunday, which were very interesting to those that had never seen one before.

Mr. A. J. Ash, a farmer who raises the best wheat in the county, says that the recent frosts have about killed it. He says he would be willing to take the amount of seed he sowed for his crop.

Anderson & Jones have ordered another lot of clothing and ladies' hats; men's and youth's suits, men's coats and vests in Blue Serge, all wool for summer. Also a nice line of odd pants, will be in a few days.

The paper man made a mistake and sent us the wrong size causing the margin of the Nugget to be quite small, but you will find all the reading in it as usual. It may look like some chickens of few feathers but the meat is nice, delicious and plenty of it.

Although Mrs. B. R. Meaders has been confined to her bed for months and unable to see anyone except those who visit her, she never forgets the needy and distressed. When learning of any poor sick person in need anywhere in the community, this good lady never fails to have something sent for their relief. This is old time religion.

Prof. Ansted expects to return to London about the middle of July. The Professor has been a citizen of Dahlonega for several years and if he has a single enemy here we don't know it. Both the students and citizens all regret to see him take his departure. He has filled his position at the college with entire satisfaction and would be unanimously re-elected by the board of trustees had he not made up his mind to return to his old country.

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Evans, after a visit of several days among relatives of this place and Union county, left last Sunday for their home in Oklahoma. Mrs. Evans is the only daughter of Mr. James Gurley, a former resident of this place. She left here when only a little girl of ten years of age. Her father has been very successful in farming and cattle raising in that country, being worth at least $50,000 now. He made 6,000 bushels of wheat last year and owns thousands of acres of land.

The farmers got in one full weeks work last week.

Postmaster Tate, Messrs. Thomas Tate and J. E. McGee left last Tuesday on a short visit to Tennessee.

Mr. J. M. Ricketts went down to Dawson county Monday to a shooting match and he and Dr. Palmour took the cake for the best marksmen.

Parties who have been across the Blue Ridge say that Mr. Grant Woody is building a two story hotel near his residence on the other side for the benefit of fisherman and pleasure seekers.

Last Saturday afternoon while the college cadets were taking a game of base ball, Mr. Jelks had three of his front teeth knocked out by the ball passing through his hands as he went to catch it, striking him in the mouth.

A few days ago a saw mill man of Hall county, was in Dahlonega in search of cattle to haul stock, who stated that he was preparing to saw and contract to furnish the cross ties for the electric railroad from Gainesville to this place.

Mr. W. H. Courtney of the Loud mill, spent a few hours in Dahlonega last Monday on business. He has been placer mining at this mine for the past 12 years and has walked over the vein recently discovered three or four times every day.

A citizen residing in Chestnut district 12 miles distant, didn't know that Mr. Daniel Howell was dead, who passed away at Auraria several weeks ago, until he was in town last Monday. This shows how far a man is behind the times who does not take his county paper.

An old soldier's service will be held at Lumpkin camp ground next Wednesday. Two special meetings will be held—one by Rev. John Venable of Gainesville; and one by Rev. M. J. Cofer of Atlanta. Dinner on the grounds. Services begin at 9 a. m.

The Rev. Mr. White didn't go out to fill his appointment at Shady Grove last Sunday on account of the inclement weather, doubtless many were disappointed up there because they all like him and do not mind going a few miles through the rain to hear this young, though able divine.

Rev. Mr. Gunn preached down at Mr. John Foster's residence Monday night. During his discourse he didn't forget yet editor, but talked more mildly than he did at church. If Mr. Gunn would take his text from the Bible instead of the Nugget, and talk about the Lord more than he does its editor he would have better influence and accomplish more good. The people of this country are acquainted with both paper and editor, many of them more than they are the Lord or Bible.

At a meeting of the council last Monday night T. J. Smith was elected to fill the unexpired term of alderman Geo. Moore, who moved to Gainesville. Besides condemning and ordering the old house in rear of C. W. Satterfield's store removed within 10 days, an ordinance which will be found elsewhere, was passed prohibiting persons from opening their places of business on Sunday. Read it. The marshal collected the following funds to wit, for April: Street tax $50.00; Cemetery $18.00.

Mr. LaFave of St. Louis, after spending near two weeks in this section examining the mica propositions in both Lumpkin and Union counties, returned home last Monday. He says the mica in both counties is valuable, and tried to purchase some property in each but at one place the titles did not suit him, and at another they wanted more than he offered for a certain lot. He says the mica owners of this section have been robbed heretofore by parties who claimed they wished to purchase it, of thousands of dollars worth of mica carried off as samples, the owners not realizing its value.

The Sigma Nu Fraternity enjoyed themselves at Porter Springs last Monday picnicing.

Uncle Johnnie Cavender, father of Mr. W. S. Cavender of this place, died a few days ago at his home in Union county.

Mr. Tom Ray of this place, who we learn got hurt by a cave or slide some days ago at Beaver Ridge, Tenn., has got all right and is able to attend to his duties again.

Preacher Brown, col., refused to fill his appointments here at the Methodist church and Hickory Grove, and Rev. Sam Goodlock has been appointed to fill his unexpired term.

Lots of land in Lumpkin county Nos. 25, 27, 89, 91, 109, 181 and 310, all in 5th and 1st. Also 307, 428, 1068, in 12th and 1st, and 298 in 15th and 1st, known as the Parker lands, are now the property of Mrs. W. H. Reynolds of Macon, Ga., and for sale. Apply to W. H. McAffee, Dahlonega, Ga., or W. H. Reynolds, Macon, Ga.

A preacher and two members of the church have had their paper discontinued since last issue. What does it differ? There are always some body to fill their places. Our new subscribers since then are: Mrs. J. A. Tate, Porter Springs; C. E. Dougherty, Mat, Ga.; J. E. Elder, Columbia, Tenn.; E. C. Dale, Brookshire, Ala.; W. J. Turner, Randa, Ga.; Samuel Goodlock, Gainesville, Ga.; an extra copy for Col. J. H. Moore, Dahlonega, besides a number of renewals.

We understand that one old man here has had a good deal to say against the Nugget within the past few days. According to what he says, taking the different occupations he has followed, he is about 130 years of age, yet if he has no more influence against us than he carries in the church, what he says will not have a feather's weight. We were born and raised in this county and are much better known than he ever will be. The matter between us and preacher Gunn is a personal fight, but if he wants to meddle and take it up it doesn't differ with us. All we ask him to do is to stick squarely to the truth.

The following are the names and addresses of the young ladies attending the Normal course of the N. G. A. Will of Daniel Howell.

The last will and testament of Daniel Howell was probated in solemn form in the court of Ordinary last Monday.

The will disposes of fifteen thousand dollars worth of real and personal property, as follows: To Mrs. Lida E. Howell, wife of deceased, he gave $5,000 in cash and all of his real and personal property, household goods, etc. To Mrs. J. T. Miller, $100 in cash. To his grand children, the children of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Miller, the following sums: To Mrs. Annie Sovey, $1,000; To Miss Bessie Miller, Joe Dan Miller, Howell Miller, Edward Miller, Walter Miller, $1,500 each.

Mrs. Lida E. Howell, his widow, is appointed the sole executrix of the will, and is also appointed trustee for the minor children who are legatees and instructed to pay to them the amounts of their legacies as they arrive at the age of 21 years.

They Were Married.

One night last week while Rev. W. H. McAffee was at home an alarm was given at his door.

"Who comes there?" enquired the divine.

"Billie Anderson."

"What does Billie want?"

"To get married."

"Who does Billie want as a partner for life?"

"Miss Fannie Goodlock."

"Where's Fannie?"

"Here me iz."

The door was opened and the two were admitted and soon fixed so their hearts beat as one. Then the happy couple returned to the home prepared for them, and early next morning Bill was out in town gathering up all the pictures he could get to hang up in his room and almanacs to keep him posted about the weather.

Auraria Mining and Other Dots.

Mr. Hicks of Maine, who owns some mining property near Auraria, arrived here one day last week.

Bob Poston is placer mining on some property adjoining the Betz, owned by Mr. Jaquish. Bob is an old experienced miner and knows how to get the gold.

Mrs. Jaquish and Miss Annie Hutchison visited Dahlonega one day last week.

Rev. T. L. Robison, pastor of the Baptist church at this place, filled his regular appointment Sunday. It was the regular day for holding communion services, but owing to the inclement weather it was postponed until the first Sunday in June.

A Community Improving.

TO THE NUGGET:

Sunday school at Ashley is progressing nicely, there are from fifty to a hundred that attend every Sunday. Rev. Blackwell, of Dahlonega, preaches regularly at this place on the first and third Sundays in each month, also Rev. Blackburn, of Dahlonega, preaches for them occasionally, the latter will preach there next Sunday at 8 o'clock, p. m.

This community has improved wonderfully for the last year in physical, mental, and moral habits. Give these people leaders and you will see some good accomplished, for they possess the necessary qualities of energy and perseverance, if properly directed. Their past record has proven this beyond a doubt. Last summer, the school made a report to deserve the name of "The Banner School" of Lumpkin county. The people raised enough money to seat the house properly, and now have sufficient funds on hand to purchase a fair library, which will be placed in the school house properly.

Tin Horn as a Peacemaker.

"You've heard about the horn of plenty, of course," said a young married man, according to the Detroit Free Press. "Now let me tell you about the horn of peace. Alice and I have our little differences of opinion now and then—I suppose all young married people do—and sometimes it is not easy to effect a reconciliation right away; we are both so high tempered. Well, the other evening we went into a delicatessen shop in our neighborhood to get something nice for our evening luncheon. We had just had a lively little quarrel and had made up. In the back of the shop a little boy and a girl, the proprietor's children, were having a vociferous quarrel over some toys. She slapped him, he kicked at her, then she slapped him again, then he pulled her hair.

"Suddenly on this unpleasant scene appeared a third child, a baby boy of about two years. He immediately scrambled into the melee and out again with a tin horn while he began to blow mightily. He blew so loud that it drowned the sound of the quarrel. He went up to his brother and blew the horn in his face, then he went to the little sister and blew the horn in her face. The two wranglers stopped quarreling and laughed. The baby kept on blowing the horn, the other boy beat a drum and the girl began to pound on a toy piano.

"We were served by this time, and started out. At a shop on the way home Alice turned to go in and said:

"I'm going to buy a tin horn."

"Good," I exclaimed, "we'll get the biggest horn they have."

"We bought a big horn, and now when there is any sign of a quarrel coming on, one or the other of us blows the tin horn, then we laugh and 'make up.' This is the sorry of the horn of peace. It never fails—and there is no patent on it. Tell about it to everybody you know, if you want to."

Pension Money Short.

Owing to the fact that in making appropriations for pensions the legislature only set aside $90,000 to be paid indigent widows, there are fully 175 persons in this class who have not received money this year.

The appropriation to this class has been exhausted and Pension Commissioner Lindsey will recommend that a special appropriation be made during the summer session to meet the $10,000 needed to pay off all pensions due indigent widows.—Atlanta News.

He Won't Stick.

Rev. Sam Small is to be the manager of a million dollar Texas hotel. Mr. Small has done more things than any man we can think of. He has edited a newspaper, preached, been chaplain in the army, practiced law, farmed, operated a railroad, made political speeches, (sometimes for and sometimes against prohibition), acted as stenographer, ran a saw mill, and now he is going to be manager of a big hotel. He can do most anything well; the trouble is in keeping him.—Jackson Herald.

The Ideal Jurymen.

They have found the ideal jurymen in Frankfort, Ky., and as was to be expected, the lawyers on both sides promptly accepted him, says the Cleveland Plain Dealer. The exact means taken to discover or his unusual fitness are not stated, but it is believed they took some such form as this:

□The prosecuting attorney: "You know why you have been summoned here?"

The candidate for the jury box: "No, sir."

"You have been summoned to serve on the jury which is to try a citizen of this state for alleged complicity in the killing of Gov. Gobel."

"Is somebody keen killed?"

"Yes; Gov. Gobel."

"I want to know. Is G. Goshel dead?"

"Certainly he's dead."

"Killed, eh?"

"Yes killed by parties unknown."

"Who'd you say?"

"Parties unknown."

"Don't know him. Who'd you say he killed?"

"Gov. Gobel."

"I want to know. Darned if it don't seem funny. My wife knows 'bout all the funerals in the neighborhood, she didn't say nothin' to me 'bout any such feller. Mobby he didn't live hereabouts?"

"He was the Governor of the state."

"I want to know. G-guess I'll have to hurry home an' tell my wife 'bout this. S-she'll want to tell th' neighbors."

"You sit still. You'll have to stay right here until this case reaches the jury."

"I want to know."

A Light Sentence.

If Hallman Sims, the defaulting bank collector of Atlanta—late society man and swell—gets six years for stealing $64,000 what ought a hungry negro get for lifting a spring chicken?

This is a question that will occur to a great many people throughout the country.

Judge Newman of the United States court, who justly has the reputation of being one of the best among our judges, in passing sentence on Sims, is reported to have remarked that he would make it as light as possible "under the circumstances." What the "circumstances" are we are not informed, but it seems that the sentence is a very light one under the circumstances known to the public.—Macon Telegraph.

Richardson Had Close Call.

Deputy Collector Hiram L. Richardson had a close call with moonshiners in Hart county last Saturday night. He and Marshall John A. Dickerson went on a raid in Hart county, and captured a still which they destroyed, and were in the act of leaving the place when they were fired on from ambush by moonshiners. "Dickerson was shot in the head but was not badly hurt. The officers returned the fire but failed to land any of their assailants. The fight occurred about midnight, in a dismal swamp, and in a downpour of rain. The officers had an experience which they do not care to have repeated again.—Gamesville News.

In the original make-up of the Railroad Commission it seems that it was intended that one man should be a railroad man, one a people's man, and one a general mixture of both elements. But it seems now that the railroad man has swallowed both the people's man and the general mixture.—LaGrange Graphic.

Loving Words.

(BY MOLLIE L. CLAYTON, IN GALVESTON)

Loving words will cost but little,
Journeying up the hill of life;
But they make the weak and weary
Stronger, braver for the strife?
Do you count them only trifles
What to earth are sun and rain?
Never was a kind word wasted,
Never one was said in vain.

When the cares of life are many,
And its burdens heavy grow,
Think of weak ones close beside you—
If you love them, tell them so.
What you count of little value
Has an almost magic power,
And beneath their cheering sunshine
Hearts will blossom like a flower.
So, as up life's hill we journey,
Let us scatter all the way
Kindly words, for they are sunshine
In the dark and cloudy day.
Grudge no loving word or action
As along through life you go.
There are weary ones around you—
If you love them, tell them so!

Starved Chinese Eat Dead Bodies.

The plague and famine in China are becoming more devastating daily, according to cable advices received at the state department from United States Consul McWalden Canton. He states the plague is increasing in that city and that famine in the Kwang-Si province is spreading. An American missionary is his authority for the statement that in one village the body of a famine victim was eaten by the starving people.

A Love Letter.

We publish below a love letter written to a girl of Dahlonega by a young man, showing how loving he pretends to be now. But such as this doesn't last long. The letter is as follows:

WILD, GA., April 21, 1903.
Miss —

DEAREST FRIEND:
It is with much-pleasure I write you a few lines to let you hear from me. I feel so lonely since you left out hear I can't hardly stand it. Miss —, I thought you was an honest girl, and I do yet, but you have stolen my heart from me and I never can get it back again, unless you decide and I can get you, and then I will know my whole heart's desire.

Darling, I do know that I love you the best of anybody on this earth. I know it is sweet to love; but oh, how bitter it is to love and get no love in return! Darling, will you love me once more?

I wish my breast was made of large letters of gold, that you might look there-upon and see the love I have for you. I could not make you believe. But darling, my tongue cannot express, for my life is no satisfaction to me only when I am with you.

When I am awake I am thinking about you,
And when I am a sleep I am dreaming about you.

I never will be satisfied without you. And surely, darling, you will consent your mind and love one that loves you stronger than anyone else on this earth.

Remember that God loved the world so good that He gave up His life for them. And surely, surely, He did not love them as good as I do you, darling! God knows my heart, that I would not write you this way unless I meant just what I say. Darling, please read this and see if you can't get your heart to beat for me one time. If it does, don't fail to let me hear from you, and if you do love me "any" bit, please let me know it before I go crazy. —, I only ask you to believe me, and to try me and see if I don't prove to be just what I tell you.

I know some boys will try to flatter you and tell you all kinds of tales. But darling, I am willing to die by what I say and there are no use in nobly trying to tell something that is not true, and I would not talk and write to you this way for the world if I did not mean just what I say. Will you love me enough to try me and deal honest with me and see if I show to you that you are the girl I love so dearly?

I thought I had loved girls before, but I never did love a girl before until I loved you. Say, darling, won't you give me a chance to get my heart back? God bless your sweet little soul! You are all the girl I ever will love until my dying day.

You know, my Love, the crow is black.

Although it may turn white
But if I prove false to you, my Love,
Bright day may turn to night.

My Love, believe what I say. You are the only girl I love until my dying day. —, there is one thing, sure, if you don't love me at all I have got the advantage of you, I love you and you can't help it. So —, I hope you will not get worried trying to read this sorry written letter and remember one true friend until death. All I care for, when I am dying, is to lay my head in your arms and breathe my life out sweetly there.

Well —, I guess I will try to quit, but I ain't half done writing, nor I ain't told you half the love I have for you. So I want you to answer this by return mail. If nothing happens I will be at your house Sunday morning to take that trip to One creek falls, but I will expect to hear from you between now and Sunday. So darling, excuse me for not having anything interesting to write. I just wrote this as I felt it. I hope to receive a good letter from you and I will try to do better next time. So no more for this time, by saying:

The World is wide and you cannot step it.

I will love you and you cannot

So good bye, darling, for this time, May God bless your sweet little soul! May you live a long and happy life! This from Your best friend,

To Miss —,
Edison Invents A Gold Worker.

Thomas A. Edison has a scheme for extracting the untold billions worth of gold that lie in the immense "low grade" quartz gravel beds in lower California, New Mexico, Arizona and northern Mexico.

These cannot now be worked because water for the old fashioned placer hydraulic system is lacking and the gold runs in too small a quantity to the ton to make mining it profitable under other systems.

An air blast is employed by Mr. Edison in his solution of the problem to separate the gold from the mass. His machine is simply in construction and requires a minimum of attendance and supervision. The system has now reached a working basis.

Experiments on the desert near Santa Fe by Cloyd M. Chapman, one of Mr. Edison's assistants, have enabled Mr. Edison and Mr. Chapman to produce a machine which, they declare, will reclaim 98 per cent of the gold from the gravel.

New Version of an Old Tale.

Once there was a little girl who was always saying naughty things, and a wise fairy cast an enchantment upon her, so that each time she spoke noxious hazards, snakes loads and other reptiles seem to leap from her mouth, says Judge.

And there was another little girl who was always saying nice things and the same wise fairy so wove her spells that diamonds and rubies and money fell from this girl's mouth when she would talk. And what became of these girls?

The first one was engaged by an astute dime museum manager and became fabulously rich. The second one was gobbled up by a trust that made her talk herself to death.

The next session of the Conference Charities and Correction will be held at Portland, Me.

Nearly eighteen hundred delegates attended the Southern Baptist Convention at Savannah this week.

It has been a cool spring but the convening of the Georgia legislature will bring about a warm season.

It is reported that W. K. Vanderbilt, Jr., has recently paid $15,900 for a new automobile. More money than brains.

One of the students of the Girls College at Milledgeville breaking out with the small-pox last week caused a general stampede among the rest. All are at home now.

Mrs. Annie Wilt, a giant, who lived in New York and weighed 400 pounds, is dead. A special coffin was built which could not be passed through the door way of the house she died in.

Morris Cohen, a bar keeper on Decatur street, Atlanta, seems to be getting into trouble by selling poisonous liquor. He has been sued for $7,000 damages $5,000 in one case and $2,000 in the other.

The Southern Cotton Buyers Association is being organized so as to control the market, and the cotton business of the south will longer be left to Liverpool and New York, if the plan now on foot is consummated.

Mrs. W. O. Williams white testifying against the man who killed her husband struck the defendants attorney with her ear trumpet at Augusta last Friday. This lawyer will likely watch all ladies using trumpets hereafter.

In a lecture delivered before the members of his congregation in the African Methodist church of Evanston, Ill., recently, Rev. John Daniels tells his race that the United States was the white man's country and said it was time that the negro was learning his place.

J. W. Walker has bought the two lots where the old Methodist church now stands, of T. H. Crawford, and we understand, will give the trustees notice to move the same at once, and then he intends building a dwelling house on the lots. This seems to be mixing things pretty sharply, the church moves down by Walker's saloon and he moves up by their parsonage. What next?—Blue Ridge Post.

The report of the Southern Baptist convention at Savannah this week, shows that they have missionaries in Mexico, Italy, Brazil, Africa, China and Japan, and the amount paid out for foreign missions for a year in Georgia amounts to $98,658.08, by many thousands dollars ahead of any other state of Territory within the jurisdiction of this body. The receipts for home missions amount to $110,000, an increase over last year.

News comes from Gainesville stating that John C. Bell, a well known young white man of Cleveland, was arrested on a warrant for larceny after trust, sworn out by R. W. Dodge, Manager McNeel Marble Company, at Roswell last Saturday. Bell has been traveling for the McNeel company for a year or more, and collects accounts due as well as takes orders. Dodge charges him with a considerable shortage and claims there are twenty counts against him upon every one of which he will be vigorously prosecuted. Bell married Miss Mary Osborn of Cleveland April 27; the marriage taking place at J. C. McConell's in Gainesville. The couple were spending part of their honeymoon at Roswell.

State Treasurer Misrepresents Lumpkin Co. Mines.

It has been brought to our attention that State Treasurer, Robert E. Park, has gotten the erroneous and is scattering the report that only $6500 worth of mineral property is returned in Lumpkin county for taxation for the year 1902. To show that Mr. Park is sadly mistaken we give below the names of all persons who return property for mining purposes in Lumpkin county. This property is strictly mineral property and is used for no other purpose, and is valued in making tax returns for no other purposes. The list of names is as follows: The Dahlonega Consolidated Gold Mining Company, Standard Gold Mining Company, Garnett Waterpower and Mining Company, The Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Company, of Dahlonega, Ga. The Etowah Gold Mining Company, (John F. Betz), The Etowah Gold Mining and Milling Company, (H. D. Jaquish), The Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Company, The Lumpkin Gold Mining Company, The Turkey Hill Gold Mining Company, (F. S. Packard), The Cavender's Creek Gold Mining Company, W. B. Fry, W. W. Murray, Moore & Murray, The Georgia Dredging Company, The Breyman Dredge, Hugh F. Vanderventer, Estate of D. S. Quinby, The Syndicate, (F. W. Hall's Estate), George A. Gordon, The Kennor Gold Mining Company, T. W. Hix, W. M. Skyrme, Laura C. Aeland, The Blue Ridge Mining Company, Wahl Bros. Estate, John F. Stegall, T. R. Lombard, The Keystone Mines, (J. W. Stewart et al.), The Calhoun Mines, (S. M. Wharton), R. C. Thomas, Trustee, H. D. Clayton, J. C. Langborn, The Dahlonega Gold Mining and Milling Company of Missouri, Adleburg Gold Mining Company, Amery Austin, Augusta Gold Mining Company, H. H. Dean, Mann & Tuck.

The above named parties and corporations return taxes to the aggregate value of $238,809.00, which represents nearly one-third of the taxable property of Lumpkin county, as shown on the tax books of last year.

In nearly every instance, the capital invested in mining is invested by non residents of Georgia, who hold their stock in the corporations at their homes in the different states and away from here, and the vast amount of capital invested in these red old hills is not seen on the Georgia tax books, but it is here and at work, and is doing a good work for this section of the great State of Georgia, and we know of a certainty that the gold mining interest of Lumpkin county bears its equal and just part of the tax burdens of Georgia, with but a few exceptions.

The Southern Baptists will meet in Nashville, Tenn., next year.

Capt. John A. Miller, a prominent citizen of Atlanta, dropped dead last Monday in the presence of his wife on the twenty-eighth anniversary of his marriage.

The criminal cases to be disposed of in the United States court before Judge Newman this week include the charges of counterfeiting against J. J. and J. T. Cochran, of Fannin; charges of conspiracy against Warren and Arveta Sullens, of Lumpkin county, and the charge of attempting to pass forged money orders against M. J. D'Auty.

It seems that in Atlanta's stockade they keep white and black, male and female, and even children all in the same room. Last week 100, of all sizes and colors were found in one room and the authorities got a scorching for it by some of the delegates to the conference of Charities and Correction. The home preachers quite likely had their attention turned to the far off heathens interest and overlooked this matter in their city.

Kicks Not Always Merited.

"The many are made to suffer for the wrongs of the few. This is equally true in the matter of mining, as in other things.

Many a good camp has suffered by mismanagement of one large property, or by the unscrupulous methods of a few fakirs.

Because one or more mines in a promising mineral section have proved failures, it does not necessarily follow that no good producers will be developed. In many cases, also the failure has not been due to the property, but to the methods of handling it. There are many instances on record of properties which have had large sums expended upon them without success, developing into shippers under the management. Again a good property is often made unprofitable to its owners by the use of questionable methods in floating it. As a writer recently put it: "Investors do not realize that many times the very best mines are the worst investments, a mining investment."

Do not denounce a camp because it has scored a few failures. Do not denounce a piece of property because one or more concerns could not make it profitable. Remember that it is often the case that the fault is not with the mine or the camp. Oftentimes a good camp or a good mine is made to suffer for others' shortcomings."

We clip the above article from the Colorado Springs, Daily Mining Record, because it is applicable to this section and heartily endorse every word of it. We have known some of the best mines to fail in Lumpkin county and the country given the black eye solely for the lack of good management on the part of those in charge. Take for instance the Barlow mine. The first company that worked it years ago made a complete failure and lost large sums of money. Then when it was purchased by Col. Hand and put in charge of Judge Huff, our present ordinary, a practical miner of many years experience, he made thousands of dollars profit, and the mine is paying big today when plenty of water can be obtained.

A large gold property, in Cherokee county, is offered for sale at a reasonable price and on good terms. The tract contains 2,400 acres, all in a body. There are two creeks on the property, and a fine Water Power on the Etowah river, only 3 1/2 miles from proposed mill site.

Complete map, Mining Engineer's report and any further information desired, will be sent to any one interested.

In the absence of Mr. Mark last Sunday on account of sickness, Prof. J. W. Boyd filled the pulpit at the Methodist church at 11 o'clock and at night. Caul Strickland has left the employ of Gary & Smith, and in a few days will leave on an extended visit to relatives and friends in North Georgia. Caul is one of our best and most popular young men, and in his several positions with firms of this city has been eminently satisfactory to employers and a favorite with the people. We wish him well.—Wiregrass Blade.

Take a dollar, mark it, spend it here at home in your own county and keep account of how often you see it, and the number of debts it will settle. Then mark another and send it beyond the Chattahoochee river into another county and watch if you ever see it any more. No. Every dollar that is sent off decreases the circulation of money here just that much, and so much of this being done will always keep many of the people and county in debt.

As stated in a previous issue, parties are engaged in taking options on hundreds of acres of timbered land in the mountain section of this county at one dollar per acre for a large strong company, residing likely out of the state. The question is, when the company pays for and owns all such lands in this county what will people do for wood and something to make rails of? The only chance we see is for those owning farms to send off and buy wire fencing when their present ones rot down, and purchase coal for fuel in some distant state. Such trades as this do more harm than good and our opinion is that at no distant day this wholesale trading of lands will be regretted when it is too late.

Mrs. Lilly of Dawson county, mother of Col. O. J. Lilly, is up on a week or two's visit.

Constable Carroll had a right severe attack last Saturday but is able to be up and out again.

The lecture of Prof. J. W. Boyd at the college chapel last Friday evening was both interesting and instructive.

While engaged in a game of baseball last Monday afternoon cadet J. D. Rogers of Griffin, fell and broke his left arm.

Mr. Van Crow of this place, moved his family to Bessemer, Ala., this week where he expects to permanently locate.

The other day Mrs. Wm. Early presented Mrs. B. R. Meaders with a box of the nicest strawberries ever brought to Dahlonega. Many measured five inches. This shows what Lumpkin can produce if given a chance. No better county for fruits or vegetables.

Col. Jones, president of the Cavender's Creek gold mine, is expected at that place this week. The building is about finished and ready for his family. When located the Colonel will be able to give the operations on this property his personal attention every day.

This is foot washing season for Baptists who believe in it, and reminds us of the old negro who told how he acted when attending them. He said he would commence and continue washing his brothers feet until he came to one having a right dirty pair, and rather than tackle them he would pretend to get happy and go to shouting and in this manner got rid of the job.

A gentleman, representing the Standard Oil Co., was here last week to ascertain the consumption of oil in Dahlonega and see if it would justify the company to put up a tank and start an oil wagon on the road between here and Gainesville. We didn't learn what decision he made but don't suppose it will pay into the Consolidated Co. is furnishing so many with electric lights here.

Mr. G. H. Brehmer of Counsellport, Pa., gave us a pleasant call last Saturday while down looking after some property he owns in this county. Mr. Brehmer has been a weekly reader of the NUGGET ever since we started it and we are always glad to have a visit from any of our patrons. The gentleman took his departure first of the week and we trust that he will reach his home in safety, and not let this, his first visit, be the last.

Professors Gaillard and Vickery are the oldest teachers in the college here of any the others by many years—that is, we mean they have been acting as professors the longest. Prof. Vickery has been engaged in it ever since September 1890, and Prof. Gaillard more than a quarter of a century, liking only a year or so of being with the college ever since it has been established. Each has certainly performed his duties well for we have never heard of the least complaint by either students or trustees.

Parties up from Dawson on Monday informed us that Mrs. Gus Lowe committed suicide in that county last Saturday by hanging herself, leaving a little child only about three months old. For some time past Mrs. Lowe's mind has been unbalanced, but not thought to be anything serious. That morning before her husband started to work he asked his wife for a chew of tobacco. She gave it to him remarking: "That is the last chew of tobacco I will ever give you," and her husband went away little thinking that it was the last time he would ever see his companion alive. Later in the day some one went into the house and found Mrs. Lowe hanging to a joist with her feet on the bed perfectly dead. She had got up on the bed to adjust the rope and then pitched off and choked to death without breaking her neck.

"Choctaw" Davis left for Akabama yesterday.

Prof. Rogers gave an interesting lecture Monday night. Merchant M. G. Head is lying up, suffering with the mumps.

Mr. Rusk of the Briar Patch mine, is now down at Auraria.

Mrs. John Moore has the mumps and several other cases are in town.

A daily mail from Loudsville to Walnut except Sunday has been established.

Capt. Bennett came up Tuesday and inspected the college cadets at this place.

It is the coolest weather, and the most of it, we ever felt before at this season of the year.

Mrs. Strickland has just received a new stock of hats. Also a lot of five and ten cents counter goods.

Col. Price will leave shortly for New Orleans, where he goes to attend the Confederate Veterans reunion at that place.

The price of cotton is advancing but it is all out of the poor farmers hands and does him no good. This is generally the case.

Mr. H. M. Tower, who has been at Auraria about five months, will leave for California tomorrow, expecting to be gone a couple of months.

We keep both square and round cornered visiting cards at this office and can fix you up for traveling in good style, if you expect to see anybody.

At C. W. Satterfields you will find a fresh line of family groceries, apples, bananas, &c. Besides dry goods and notions of every description.

Our new subscribers this week are: C. H. Maulding, Giddistown, Ga.; J. R. Long, Randa, Ga.; Fermon Carroll, Madison Springs, Ga.; Mrs. Sarah Abce, Dahlonega, Ga.; J. F. Carter, Blue Ridge, Ga.; Mrs. G. W. Collier, Atlanta, Ga.

Some one went into John Carroll's house during his absence Monday night and carried away a jug containing two gallons of corn liquor he had procured for spring medicine, causing John to look as dry as a powder horse, although he said it was for his wife. John gets sick some times himself.

At the quarterly meeting of the board of education of Lumpkin county in July steps will be taken to have the school census of the county taken in August. According to law it is the duty of the County School Commissioner to do the work, but if it is so he can't, then other persons will be appointed to do it.

Mr. John Hester, who lost his wife last week, is very poor and in a needy condition. He has six little children, three of them triplets just about a month old. As many as one hundred people a day have visited his house to see them. Had they given him only ten cents a piece they would not have missed it, but been a great help to him and those little ones. Can't you send them something?

At a recent term of Lumpkin Superior court of this county, the grand jury, finding that some wild lands were being returned for less than one dollar per acre, recommended the receiver hereafter "not to take any wild lands for less than one dollar per acre." This caused some to increase the value of their lots, and gave others, owning more valuable property, a chance to return theirs at one dollar per acre. Down in the lower portion of the county a gold mine, now being operated for yellow metal, is returned at one dollar per acre. It's true, it is wild land, but doesn't or shouldn't come under this head. It is the duty of the tax receiver to cause tax payers to return their property at its market value, and he should not neglect it. It is a hardship on those returning their property at its true value, to have to bear such a burden of taxation because some man or men are allowed to make a crooked out.

Mining Notes.

Mr. Henry Roberts still continues his profitable mining operations on the Shockey lot.

The mining property advertised elsewhere is among the best mineral property in Cherokee county, and if you wish to invest it is a good proposition.

Capt. Ingersoll informs us that he has not learned what the Consolidated Co. will do yet. He also informs us that they expect to get the dredge boat running by the first of next month.

A new company has been organized here known as The Purdy-Calhoun Mining Co., with J. D. Purdy, President and General Manager; L. P. Kooker, Secretary; Wharton Anderson, Treasurer.

While down last Saturday Mr. W. H. Courtney exhibited to us some nice pieces of ore showing gold, taken from the Loud Mine in White county recently. What makes it more interesting than usual this came from the first vein ever found on this property which has produced thousands of pennyweights of gold by placer diggings.

The principal advances in Dahlonega mining are so well described by Mr. Maxwell of our town in a letter the latter part of 1904 to the Engineering and Mining Journal, that the department of the interior of the United States geological survey just issued, refers parties to it wishing information concerning this mining belt, proving that Mr. Maxwell is capable of giving valuable mining information.

Everything is moving along at the Crown Mountain without any delay whatever. The log wash separates from 60 to 65 tons of ore and sand a day. The plates are looking better than ever before showing that the ore increases in richness as they cut into the mountain. There is no trouble about money being made at this mine with plenty of water and proper management, and in order to strengthen the power and be able to run through all dry seasons a movement is on foot now to complete the Gorge dam, work on which is expected to begin at an early day.

Up at Cavender's Creek work on the canal is nearing completion very rapidly. The dirt work will be about completed this week if the weather continues favorable and the water in the canal is now within about three miles of the reservoir. We cannot tell when the tunnel will be finished as it depends entirely upon the ground. It is about 900 feet, including approaches, and there is yet about 300 feet to cut, some of it through rock. A shaft has been sunk in the center so as to enable them to run eight shifts, four from both ends of the tunnel and four each way from the shaft.

At the annual meeting of Crown Mountain Gold Mining and Milling Co., here last week but one or two changes were made in its officials. The officers for the next twelve months will be as follows: Gen. A. J. Warner, president; C. M. Merrick, vice president; J. F. Moore, secretary; F. N. Sinks, treasurer; F. P. Catchings, engineer. Directors: Gen. A. J. Warner, J. H. Moore, J. C. Rogers, J. F. Moore, L. K. Donavin, C. J. Doherty, C. M. Merrick. Mr. Sinks fills the office of treasurer, which Mr. Moore held in connection with secretary, and Mr. Rogers was put on the board of directors in place of Judge Murray.

We have had cloudy weather and wind from the east for about two weeks but very little rain up to yesterday.

The Phi Mu Society will have a murder trial next Monday at 8 o'clock. Solicitor General, James F. Branch. The attorneys for the defendant are: N. W. Grant and John R. Byers. Go go out, Everybody invited.

Father or Lover?

Collier's Weekly publishes the following as a "first prize letter" of a young woman to her father:

Daddy, daddy, how am I going to write you this letter!

I should feel ashamed of myself for not having the courage to go straight to you and tell you my secret, as a sensible young woman should. Instead, I have run up to my room and locked myself in, to write you all my heart. When I have finished, I shall slip the letter under your bedroom door.

Here it is: I love another man—another besides you, daddy; and the conviction is nearly breaking my heart.

The man I love—the other one, daddy—is good, brave, true and—yes, even great; but my poor heart aches unutterably with the thought that, if I go to him, I must leave you. Leave, you, dearest, best, truest father a girl ever had.

When I look back over the twenty-three years of my life—all motherless years—and recall how we—you and I, daddy—have walked hand in hand, heart to heart, all the way, through sunshine and shadow, over smooth paths and rough, drawing ever closer to each other with the passing of the years—when I think of all this, and then realize that I am actually asking to let me leave you, actually deserting—oh, I could tear my heart out for its treachery. I could weep my eyes dry for very bitterness of soul!

When I think of leaving you for this new love, I despise myself and want to go down at your feet and beg forgiveness; but, ah, daddy, when I think of giving up my new love I cannot bear the pain of it for one moment. I cannot, I cannot!

And here I am, asking you to let me go. Will you ever know the pain it gives me? Almost I could implore you not to let me go—to hold me, hold me, even against my will.

But no, you will give me your dear smile of immeasurable tenderness and bid me seek my happiness, and then my heart will bleed in an agony of self-reproach.

Daddy, if you can forgive me—how silly of me to say that! If you can believe that I still love you—that is foolish, too. If—ah, I must ask it—if you can give me up to him, tell me so by putting a rose on my breakfast plate in the morning. Don't speak to me then, for my heart is too full. Just put the rose there. And then, after a while, I will try to talk sensibly to you about it—about him.

Good-night, sweet daddy. I hardly know what sort of state my heart is in. I only know that I love two men with all the very soul of me. That sounds dreadful, but one of them is my idolized father, and the other—Ah, put the rose there in the morning, daddy!

Your loving DAUGHTER.

Exceptional Proportions.

A clergyman having occasion to go to London before Christmas, his wife asked him to buy a text for the gallery of the church for the Christmas decorations, according to the King. He was very busy and forgot all about it, till just before leaving, so wired for instructions to his wife as to words and dimensions. She wired back the following message: "Unto us a son is born, nine feet long by three feet high."

Heart Trouble Baffled Doctors.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nerve Cure Me.

There is nothing more necessary to health than sleep and rest. If these are denied you, if you rise in the morning more tired than when you went to bed, there is an affection of the nerves plainly present. If your heart is weak, or there is an inherited tendency in your blood, your weakened nerves will soon affect your heart's action as to bring serious chronic trouble. Dr. Miles' Nerve is a nerve tonic which quiets the nerves, so that sleep may come, and it quickly restores the weakened nerves to health and strength. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure is a great blood and heart tonic which regulates the action of the heart, enriches the blood and improves the circulation.

"Some time ago I was suffering severely with heart trouble. At times my heart would seemingly stop beating and at others I would beat loudly and very fast. Three to four hours sleep each night in ten months was all I could get. One week in last September I awoke closed my eyes. I had Dr. Miles' Nerve and Heart Cure at a drug store in Lawrenceburg, after spending $2000 in medicines and doctors in Louisville, Shelbyville, Frankfort, Cincinnati and Lawrenceburg, and in three days have derived more benefit from the use of your remedies than I got from all the doctors and their medicines. I think everybody ought to know of the marvelous power contained in your remedies."—W. H. HIGGINS, Fox Creek, Ky.

One Confederate Made Regiment Run.

"I was up in Virginia last year on a little visit," said Mr. William Beddingfield yesterday, "and I went down the Shenandoah valley, where I was during the war."

"I had the small-pox while our forces were in the valley, and when Gen. Lee marched into Pennsylvania they left me in a cabin near Winchester, with an Irishman for a nurse."

"When Lee marched back into Virginia, after the battle of Gettysburg, and our men passed by where I was laid up, I was convalescent, and my nurse left me and went along with the army."

"A little later, a regiment of Federal cavalry came trotting along. They saw me sitting on the little porch of the cabin, and halted."

"The officer in command dismounted, and taking a carbine from one of his men, came towards the cabin. That looked skittish, but I made up my mind to sit steady and look as cool as possible."

"Are you a soldier?" he asked.

"Yes," I replied.

"Confederate?"

"Yes."

"How long since the Confederate forces passed here?" he asked.

"I don't know," I said.

"How large a force was it?"

"I don't know."

"What in the devil do you know?"

"Not much of anything—but I know one thing mighty well," I said.

"What's that?"

"I know I am a mighty sick man."

"What's the matter with you?"

"I have got the small-pox," I said.

"He turned and made a run for his horse, flung himself in the saddle, and in less than a minute you couldn't see that regiment for the dust."

"I went down where the cabin was located while up there last summer, and it's there yet."

Gentlemen—I was afflicted with Kidney and Bladder trouble for six years and had tried numerous preparations without getting any relief and had given up hope of ever being cured when FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE was recommended to me. After using one bottle I could feel the effect of it, and after taking six fifty-cent bottles, I was cured of Kidney and Bladder trouble and have not felt so well for the past twenty years and I owe it to FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE. What I Said About The Nugget.
(FROM THE SIGNAL.)

There has been a good deal of talk concerning what I said about the Nugget. I do not wish to discuss the matter any further, but desiring that the public should know my position I give below a report of just what I did say as taken down by a stenographer.

Sunday evening, Apr. 20, 1903. —Now I am going to take occasion here to night to say something I regret to say, and yet I feel called upon to do it, but I am going to clear these hands of this matter and there I leave it.

When I came to this town I subscribed to a paper called the "Nugget"; I usually subscribe to the local papers. I like to get the news, but I do not like to get it mixed up with all kinds of insults and injuries upon my own head, but when a man throws an insult into the face of my blessed Christ, that is more than I will stand without rebuking it. When a man comes and slaps the face of the church that I love and honor, that is more than I will take without rebuking. Now, you people know what I am talking about. You know that the editor of this little paper in this town called the "Nugget," has constantly and repeatedly been throwing his insults into the faces of the preachers and churches of this town, and I say here to night, I am going to clear my hands of this whole matter and there leave it.

I am patronizing that institution. I am a subscriber to that paper, but my mind is made up,—if I can help it not another issue of that sheet will come to the post-office addressed to me; I am done with it. This book tells me over there in Ezekiel, "If the wicked sin and you warn them not, and they die in their sins, their blood will be required at your hands, but if you warn them if you do your duty toward them, and then they repent not, you have delivered your soul."

Now, I stand here to night, to testify to the fact that there are those of us who have tried to win over this man. Brother Marks, here, the Methodist pastor, the first time he met him tried it, and he took it as an insult, and I have been to his office and been turned away by him—too busy to see me, and I have gone any how and met him on the street, trying to discharge my duty, and yet I have been turned away as though I were a book agent, because I went there with my Bible in my hand, trying to point him, as I try to point other men and women, to the way of life.

A book agent is engaged in an honorable business. Now and then, we go to this man's home to read the Bible and pray with his family, and here come out in the next issue of his paper an insult for that. Hear me if, the Christian sentiment of this town will support that institution and will hold up the men that continually throw out these insults at the preachers of this town, * * * and at the churches, be it with your hands are clear of this matter this night. And now, I am going to say something else: Here we have tried to warn this man, but as sure as I stand here before you to night, if he goes on in this manner and does not repent of his sins and turn to God, just like every other sinner, he is sure to die and go to hell. Oh, my God, save him, my God, save this man; his hand is lifted against the Church of God, and a good man is not safe from his attacks!

You go off into some other part of the state and get us preachers to come here and preach the Gospel to you, and yet we have got to stand here and receive these insults in our faces by an institution that you are supporting. You can support it if you want to, but these hands are clear of this matter.

God knows I have no ill will in my heart towards him. There is no man here who would go quicker to this man this night and try to win him to Christ and teach him the error of his way than I would—not a man. "Oh, my God, save our children, these little boys and these little girls, from the influence and sentiment, the cursed sentiment that such an institution as this creates in our midst. I would not say what I am saying tonight were it not for these precious boys and these precious little girls here.

They are the ones that are to suffer. Your conference will call you away, Brother Marks, in a few years; and these Baptist people will get tired of me, and I will have to go. Brother Blackwell, I don't know how they will get you away, but, Oh, these boys and these girls, they have to stay here, and they have to live under this awful stench. And I want you to know that I am not saying anything that I will have to take back; I know what I am talking about. Oh, my God, save the town!

The good people of this town come together in the Union Meeting of the Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterians, the very best people that the town can get together, and they are all united in a special effort for the salvation of souls. And yet, it is all just done "for the sake of being conspicuous, on the part of some of us, and no good can come of it." We make a little sacrifice and give of our means to help preach the gospel to the poor heathens on the other side of the world that have never had the opportunities that this man had, and we are insulted about that. Now, and right here, I am going to ask this congregation to bow together with me, and we will lift a prayer to God for this man. We have done the best we could, and now we will take his case once more to the Throne of Mercy and there we will leave it. J. R. GUNN, Pastor of The Dahlonega Baptist Church.

A Letter From J. A. Elliott.

SODDY, TENN., May 11, 1903.

EDITOR NUGGET:

If you will allow space in your columns I will give you the way they do their trading here. They consist of four amounts on each leaf in the book, the book has from 6 to 10 leaves in it, amount on space runs from 5c to $1.00. The state has passed a law that all incorporated companies shall redeem them every 90 days with good money. So the Soddy Coal Company has got up a "punch-out," saying on it, "only good for goods in the company's store, and each man must handle the "punch-out" bearing his own name or some member of the family." The ladies, mostly, does the trading on the first of the month—give an order for the amount wanted, then get their "punch-outs," pay for their grub, and then the delivery wagon puts it off at their house. I have seen women standing at the counter for three hours to get waited on and didn't seem to mind it. It is called "the ladies pay day."

pick from 25 to 30 on the first of the month, and if he wants a "pullet" he had better look out or he might get pulled.

Soddy is supposed to be a dry town, though it takes a good deal of it. It averages a two horse load of beer and whiskey jugs six days out of every week. While it has six churches, a nice library, and it opens at 6 in the evening and holds until 10. They pay a teacher $35.00 per month to look after it. She also has five different secret organizations, the Masons, I. O. O. F., Redmen, K. of P. Patriarchs. She has 4 mails per day, 2 fast trains and 2 accommodations, and the freighting is crowded all the time. There is so much coal, coal and iron shipped over the C. S. road that if they didn't run by electric signal blocks they would always be colliding. The blocks are 4 miles apart and when the train runs over the battery it throws a red signal 4 miles ahead, pointing the way it is traveling. So the engineer seeing the red thrown to him, he gets in a hole, as they call it, which means to side track. Sometimes they both enter the blocks at the same time, then if the operator doesn't catch them they may collide.

There are a heap of mining places on this road. I will commence at Chattanooga and give the places in Tennessee, as far as I know. The first place is Daisy, Soddy, Retore, Sall Creek, Graissville, Dayton, Evansville, Glenial, Rockwood, Brushy Mountain, Oakdall, Jelico. And it continues on through Kentucky and into Ohio, and several more that I don't know.

So I will quit writing for this time, by asking E. V. Moose if he has dug his potatoes yet?
J. A. ELLIOTT.

On His Dignity.

Sometimes a doctor has to deal not only with physical ailments, but with a mental attitude which complicates the case, says the Youth's Companion. A man who was constantly changing physicians at last called in a young doctor who was just beginning his practice. "I lose my breath when I climb a hill or a steep flight of stairs," said the patient. "If I hurry I often get a sharp pain in my side. Those are the symptoms of a serious heart trouble."

"Not Necessarily, sir," began the physician, but he interrupted. "I beg your pardon!" said the patient, irritably. "It isn't for a young physician like you to disagree with an old experienced invalid like me, sir."

In China the saying is that "first comes the missionary, next the consul and then the gunboat."

THE NUGGET.

DAHLONEGA, MAY 21, 1903.

Entered at the Dahlonega, Ga. P. O. as Second Class Matter.

Official Organ of both City and County.

The strikers of Denver, Col., number 78,000.

Over 3,500 citizens of Floyd county have signed the dispensary bill.

Congressman Hardwick of the 10th district is going to introduce a bill not allowing negroes to vote.

Judge Felton made it hot for gamblers in Macon last week. The fines were $250 each.

The old soldiers service at Lumpkin campground recently is reported as being largely attended.

A church at Denver, Col., costing $150,000, was burned last week, believed to have been of incendiary origin.

In London recently, Mrs. P. Lorrillard, of New York, was robbed of $50,000 worth of jewelry while travelling.

A three days snow storm this week caused a loss of $5,000,000 worth of cattle and sheep in Montana.

A negro woman was bound over in Columbus, Ga., last week for making liquor out of syrup, skimmings. Oh how juicy.

Capt. S. D. Bradwell, formerly state school commissioner of Georgia, and for a number of years president of the State Normal school in Athens, died last Friday in Florida.

President Roosevelt has been in California examining the big trees in a stage, while Booker Washington, the negro who dined with him in Washington is also traveling and lecturing.

The pardoning of persons convicted of murder and sentenced to the penitentiary for life still continues in Georgia. Why not do away with courts and juries and let defendants be tried by the pardon board? It would save time, trouble and expense.

A negro was lynched in Illinois last week for the usual crime for which they are lynched in the South. Hemp is just as cheap in Illinois as in Georgia, and the citizens there are just as handy with it when the occasion arises, says the Eastman Times-Journal.

Five years in the Philippines, and what is there to show for it. The expenditure of $700,000,000 and the sacrifice of 10,000 American lives; a subverted national purpose, the repudiation of the principles of our fathers and the bloody shame of conquest.—Mariana Journal.

The Wiregrass Blade has changed hands. It now belongs to Messrs. W. W. Larsen and Senborn Bell. Hon. Geo. Bell not being willing to represent Emanuel county in the legislature and run a newspaper too has sold to these gentlemen. Success to one and all.

The bill to prevent children of a certain age from working in factories will likely become a law at the next legislature. We have heretofore been opposed to such a law but since becoming more acquainted with the facts, now favor it. We favor no law that will allow a man to work his children in factories and take the money and spend it for liquor, as is frequently the case.

A misplaced comma has got a Greely county, Kan., paper into a peck of trouble. The Journal in question recently published an item in which the following sentence occurred: "Two young men from Leoti went with their girls to Tribune to attend the teachers' institute and as soon as they left, the girls got drunk." The comma belonged after the girls, and the latter are making it hot for the editor.—St. Paul Globe.

Jim Dumps gazed out on sidewalks hot
And looked in vain for one cool spot;
And vowed he ne'er again would eat
A lunch of heat-producing meat.
Once more he "Force" restored his vim,
Although 'tis hot, he's "Sunny Jim."

"Force" is a blessing to hot humanity. I find it cooling in the morning, and I want it every morning—that I am able to go through a hot day with much more comfort than when I tried to eat heavy, meat breakfasts. It has taught me how to live.
—R. B. CLAYBORN.

Mr. Gunn Again.

As Mr. Gunn had his remarks made about us and the Negro, recently occurring in the church published in last week's Signal, we copy them so you can read and see for yourself that he made more misstatements than one. You who have been reading the Negro for years will not be long in finding this out. We have said nothing against the churches. We have talked about the hypothesis. Is he one? We don't know. If not he defends them strongly. Churches are good institutions and a great blessing to any community, but let unpoplar men get into the pulpit like Mr. Gunn, who take a delight in talking about their fellow men, they never accomplish anything and do more harm than good. Ministers are like other people. They can act in a manner so as to be popular, loved and respected, or despised.

Since becoming able we have contributed to the churches very liberally, much more so than some of the members of greater means—having even gone to the expense of getting photographs and nice suits of all the churches in town, and giving a history of them from their formation, on up to the present time—said all we could of the good people belonging to them, besides giving space enough for a dictionary, telling you will preach and where they will preach each and every week. Leaving the hypothesis that occasionally work may be done, unmentioned in the article. And yet we must be held as a terror to them and the good people by this young chap of the wise variety. When he said that our hand "is lifted against the church of God, and a good man is not safe from his attacks," he visited to our office he tries to put a wrong construction on it. It was on Thursday, press day, a very busy time, it's true. When he came in we treated him like he was a gentleman—asking him to have a seat, but didn't stop because we had looked the type and were operating our printing machine, hurrying to get our papers ready for the mail on time. After standing awhile Mr. Gunn remarked, "You are busy. I will see you again." "All right," we replied in as soft a tone as we use to men talking to a man we respect, before our marriage. Now, this is the way he "was turned away." Is there anything wrong about this? Do you merchants sent waiting on your customers when Mr. Gunn visits your store, and sit down and chat with him? Does the manager of a stamp mill shut the plant down when the great I am steps in? If not he has just as much right to attack them as he did us. Afterwards he accosted us at Mr. John Moore's store. We stepped out on the sidewalk and he questioned about what we had said against the support of the hearthen. We told him we couldn't agree with him on the question but stated that it was only difference of opinion. Was this really an unpardonable sin? Then he insisted on us coming to church. We told him we were coming. Only a few days previous we had heard of Mr. Gunn saying that he felt like a June bug. Aware that there is nothing in a June bug we didn't care to go out to hear him wile.

Mr. Gunn lets his mouth go off half cocked very often with his pupils at these meetings with him. We are told that not long since he called two gentlemen, among the most prominent members of the church here, puppies. Let us see about the insult he claims we gave Mr. Marks. In December Mr. J. P. Castleberry, a christian gentleman, introduced us to Mr. Marks as editor of the Negro, who wouldn't have done so had we been fighting the good people and churches, as Mr. Gunn claims. Mr. Marks asked us if we belonged to the church. Our reply was, "No sir." There he remarked that running a newspaper and not belonging to the church was shabby, shabby. Casting an insult at us instead of us at him.

Now a few more words about Mr. Gunn and then we are done.

How can he expect to accomplish any good? Ask the people to quit patronizing us and then pray for the Lord to bless us. This is too inconsistent. Such acts as this is why he failed to accomplish much during the meeting. As proof of this, several weeks after this meeting the city council had to pass an ordinance compelling persons, who had attended his meeting, to close their places of business and quit selling goods on Sunday. Mr. Gunn's article will be found on the first page. Read it.

We are very sorry to have to refer to Mr. A. N. Asbury, who is meddling himself enough to wait a lot of time going around talking about the Negro and its editor, because he is an old man and we must certainly respect old age, but a man should keep himself within the bounds of reason. It's true, Mr. Asbury thinks probably that he has no way of displaying his language and us except in this manner, but if he will furnish us with the manuscript we will publish his sayings with pleasure, giving all the people of our native county an opportunity of knowing whether he is right or not. Mr. Asbury, because he is mad with us for exercising a right that every man has, besides saying many hard things about us, calls the Negro a "smutty sheet."

Mr. Asbury moved to Dahlonega in the year 1900. On January 1st, 1901 he paid us a dollar for a year's subscription to the NUGGET and seemed pleased with it. January 1st, 1902 he had it sent to his daughter in Texas three months. And on January 22nd, 1903 he paid us to send it to him here three months. No objections being raised to it until recently, although it is run now as it was in 1901, the news against sinner, saint and preacher, being dished out alike, and to send his daughter a "smutty sheet," he wouldn't be guilty of that, of course, because she is a lady of much refinement and highly respected by us and all the people of Dahlonega. Only a short time ago Mr. Asbury called on us to help in the way of a contribution, for the purpose of seating Oak Grove church. We gave freely. The "smutty sheet" was all right then. We merely give these facts to show you how some men will act. To come down to real facts, if Mr. Asbury is going to take the field, we had rather have him against us than for us. Gentle reader, you must excuse us for taking up so much space this week in telling you where the candle of some people here is hid. We must defend ourselves during the time.

The Episcopal conference will meet in Atlanta next year.

Saturday night President Roosevelt slept in a snow storm.

A drought prevails in Puerto Rico and the orange blossoms are drooping.

The gates of New Orleans were thrown open this week to the old Confederate war veterans who are attending the reunion in that city. Gen. John B. Gordon of Georgia, is Commander in Chief.

It seems to be a Cleveland wave on the party just now and he is about all the man at this time who is able to lead this party to success.

Mr. D. W. Miller, the largest farmer in Oklahoma Territory is dead. He employed over 200 hands to operate the farm and look after his cattle. He had 16,000 acres in wheat.

We have heard of one bappy death, and that was Mrs. Minnie Summers who laughed herself to death in New York the other day. While entertaining friends she got tickled at a joke told and could not stop till she dropped forward and expired.

Local News.

Warm weather and thunder showers now.

Mr. Ashley, who is mining down in Dawson county, was in Dahlonega last Monday.

Prepare and come to the commencement. They are going to have a high old time.

Mrs. J. D. Blackwell has returned from an extended visit to relatives in South Carolina.

Profs. Ansted, Steed and Maj. Tillson went across the mountain last Sunday to fish for trout Monday.

Mayor Baker fined Nelius Grindlock, col., two dollars and cost last Monday for slapping a female of his color.

Mr. Wash Satterfield, foreman of Crown Mountain mill, fell from a scaffold down there this week and was slightly injured.

Lernud men seem to be numerous. About a dozen applicants have already been received for the presidency of the N. G. A. College here.

The city marshal has been instructed to report all persons who hereafter sell anything on Sunday to the grand jury except for fish, snags.

My traps that usually sell for 25 cents can be bought at 70 cents at M. G. Hends. Men who adventure can always afford to sell cheap.

Meal is very dull at 70 cents from the wagons. There are hundreds of bushels in the country yet to sell but the digest doesn't show but very little.

Some few citizens of Dahlonega have sent the lady who was discharged at a hotel for refusing to make up Booker Washington's bed, contributions.

Postmaster Tate in loss of his sons, Mr. Tom Tate, have arrived from Tennessee, where they went to buy stock, but on account of the secrecy only brought back two horses.

Well, well, well! You will find by examining the tax books that some farmers of this county are making a crop with two dollars' worth of tools and some with nothing. No wonder they complain of not making a success of the business.

Notwithstanding the remarks of Mr. Gunn in his efforts to have the Nigger boycotted for telling the truth, new subscribers continue to come in. So far, this week, they are: A. D. Gaydon, F. A. Crain, Burtshoro; W. M. Dowdy, Wild; Toney Hughes, T. S. Weaver, Jack Strickland, Dahlonega.

Hon. G. D. Bruce arrived last Saturday from the "Mountains of Hepsedam," where the lion roareth and the whangdoodle mourneth, etc., taking pictures, and is now engaged in finishing up the work. The next trip he makes he will go to the legislature and look after the interest of the people as he has always done.

Mr. Marks, the pastor of the Methodist church, was around this week soliciting contributions for foreign and home missions combined. He met with members of the church who refused to give anything for foreign missions but they were perfectly willing to help towards the other cause, and we are glad to say that the old gentleman talked to them very kindly and didn't preach their funerals.

Last week we contributed a little mite to a home mission cause, and feel confident that the Lord blessed us, for we soon took in $5.00. The next time we sit down to the table we had meat to eat with a streak of ham and streak of fat, sugar to go in our coffee and a spoon to stir it with, causing us to think of the passage of scripture which says "The Lord is my shepherd and I shall not want." We have decided to take a walk of a couple of miles every morning, so as to whet up our appetite and be able to enjoy these blessings.

Mr. F. P. Catchings of Gainesville, was up on a visit here last Tuesday.

Packet heads printed at this office at from $1.75 to $2.00 per thousand. Do you need any? If so send in.

Before breakfast this morning a lady sent us a dollar for a years subscription to the Nigger. Many thanks.

Col. Charters and Mr. H. D. Gortley left this week for a trip to the east, and will be gone a week or ten days.

The citizens of Union county contributed $82 to Mr. Bryan who lost his house in this county by fire a few nights ago.

It is said that some of the boys spent the most of last Sunday off fishing, but none of them being a printer or editor, escaped the notice of the preacher.

Mr. David Grindle, a brother of Mr. J. T. Grindle, died a few days ago and was buried at Auraria. Mr. H. R. Loggins requests us to extend his thanks to the good neighbors for their assistance during his sickness and death.

Lowest Water Mark on Shoals. - Men's $3.50 vid calf, at $3.00. The $2.50 at $2.00, and so on down the line. The best ladies' yard shoes in Georgia. Colonial and all other shoes in seasonable goods never heard of prices in Dahlonega before.

Mr. W. G. Thomas was before Mayor Baker last Monday charged with selling other than restaurant goods on Sunday, who was released and told to go and sin no more on account of being mistaken in reference to what is allowed to be sold on Sunday.

It is said that a certain preacher up in Chestatee district became unruly and was about to whip one of the members of the church. We suppose it is right, where a preacher can't make his members understand a matter, is to knock it into them, then all will be blessed.

Mr. Grant Woody of Union county, is more enterprising and public spirited than some of us here. At the foot of the Blue Ridge he has created a two story hotel and is now advertising for summer visitors by the use of printed letter heads and envelopes.

We noticed last Sunday when the college cadets were told to go to the church of their choice that two went to the Methodist, ten to the Baptist and all the rest to the Presbyterian, proving that what we have said elsewhere is true, that is, pastors can make them selves popular or unpopular.

It is reported here that "Rock" Rayan of Chestatee district, attempted to commit suicide last Saturday by tying a piece of livery bark to a rock and jumping into the river, but when his feet struck the bottom he poked up his head and reconsidered the matter, and today is one among us poor printers and sinners.

Sheriff Davis has been busy for the past few days discharging his official duties. Recently he has arrested and taken bonds for Walt Anderson, Silas Bruce, Bishop Anderson, Jord Wehnt of Dawson county, charged with riot and misdemeanor. In this county he has arrested Charlie Stringer, charged with stabbing one of the Teals. It occurred a year ago but no bill was found until at last term of the Superior court.

The murder trial of last Monday in the Phi Nu Hall was in every way a success. It was carried out with the exactness of legal procedure, and all the officers and attorneys connected with the case demonstrated ability and preparation. The judge presiding was R. Byers. The defendant's attorneys, N. W. Grant and Jno. R. Byers, put up a able defense. One of the states' attorneys being absent, J. F. Broach, Solicitor General, was left to argue for the state. The jury returned a verdict of not guilty. It was quite a pleasant surprise to have so many lady friends present.

Several of the students have got the mumps.

Col. Farrow is here repairing his telephone line.

A few more of those nice eating Irish potatoes at John H. Moores. Our friend and patron, Mr. Turner Quillian of Land, Ga., was over Sunday, in company with his wife.

Our friend Rev. J. H. Bell of Atlanta, visited the Nigger office yesterday and renewed his subscription.

This office is indebted to Mrs. H. D. Ingersoll for a big bowl of nice, large strawberries, sent us last Friday.

State School Commissioner Merrett came up and delivered a lecture Thursday night and left early the next morning.

Col. Jones, his wife and six daughters have arrived at the Cavender Creek mine and located. We welcome them to our county.

Mrs. A. Thomson, mother of Mr. R. C. Thomson, who recently resided in Dahlonega, died a few days ago at her home in Delaware, O.

Mr. G. E. McGuire is over at Ellijah this week. He will go from there to Blue Ridge and after remaining a week will return home.

The case of the United States vs. Arveta Sullins of this county, charged with conspiracy, has been continued until the first day of June.

Mr. M. G. Head, after being confined to his room several days with the mumps, is out again and at his place of business, ready to wait on customers and give them bargains in various kinds of goods. Call on him.

One of our subscribers in Kansas City while renewing his subscription to the Nigger last week added this: "Of course I like the style, print and contents of the Nigger or I would not be spending money for it."

Last week J. E. Cochran of this county, was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary and pay a fine of five hundred dollars by Judge Newman. This should be a warning to all having any inclination of making counterfeit money. His brother was acquitted.

We ought to know good stock powders and remedies, we use enough, and believe International is the best ever made, we have it. Also Twin Brother axle grease, lasts longer if you don't use too much, than any other.

B. R. MEADERS & SONS.

The little fire editor of the Signal, being blessed up by Mr. Gunn, has renewed his barking at us. We have given more money in the last three years to the churches here than Billie ever had at one time during his life. This is the kind of an "infidel" we are, but you know if he was to tell the truth it would choke him dead.

It is right interesting to hear Mr. G. W. Bruce, residing a mile below Dahlonega, tell of the days of long ago in this place. He was here before the Cherokee Indians were carried away, and remembers the old log school house that used to stand on the hill where the N. G. A. College is now located, and the first jail that stood on the lot just below Mr. Hughes Moores.

A few days ago a stranger appeared in Dahlonega from a distant state. He went over to the bank and stated that he had come to buy some mining property and wished to make a deposit. The cashier thought from the way he talked and spread himself that he had some eight or ten thousand dollars, but when he pulled his money out and counted it he could only rake up forty dollars. Then he went off and looked at mica mines as if he owned millions, besides making enquiries about the condition of the bank, soon returning and leaving out. So you can't tell from a man's appearance what he possesses, whether anything or nothing.

Col. Price has gone to Baltimore. F. J. Williams of this county, left last Monday for Knoxville, Tenn.

Mr. Boyd-Gurley and family paid relatives across the Blue Ridge, a visit last Sunday.

Dr. Bright, the dentist, left this week to be gone awhile, but expects to return again during the summer.

Miss Calhe Watts, formerly of Dahlonega but now of Gainesville, was married a few days ago to a Mr. Smith.

Target practice by the cadets has been going on for several days. Last Saturday Homer McKee made 50 out of possible 50, one hundred yards.

Many of the young people attended services at Yellow Creek, in Hall county last Sunday. There were services nearer but the buggy ride was the main feature.

We announce with pleasure that Mr. N. W. Grant of Habersham county, who is attending college at Dahlonega, has been appointed assistant paymaster of the U. S. navy.

Mr. John D. Stargel, formerly of Dahlonega, died at Trion Factory, Ga., on the 23rd of last month. Mr. Stargel has several brothers in this county, all of whom have our sympathy. The deceased was one of our warmest friends, causing us to deeply regret to hear of his death.

Post washing takes place at Oak Grove church next Sunday. We expect to attend, for there a person can attend church and not be afraid of being insulted, because the preacher takes his text from the Bible and preaches from it, is why from 15 to 25 join the church nearly every year.

Lots of land in Lumpkin county Nos. 25, 27, 30, 91, 109, 181 and 310, all in 5th and 1st. Also 307, 428, 1008, in 12th and 1st, and 298 in 15th and 1st, known as the Parker lands, are now the property of Mrs. W. H. Reynolds of Macon, Ga., and for sale. Apply to W. H. McAfee, Dahlonega, Ga., or W. H. Reynolds, Macon, Ga.

So far, the boycotting of the Nigger, because it resented an insult made by a preacher, amounts to six. Let it be preacher, sinner or saint; big, little, old or young, we are going to defend ourselves and if you don't wish to read what we say you needn't take it. If there are others wishing to discontinue the Nigger on this account let them send in at once. We want to give their names later on.

As it has been reported that Rev. J. N. Austin of Half Way, wrote the article just before court about Mr. Scott Stringer, we wish to state in justice to this, diyme that he had nothing to do with it. We write our own editorials and are responsible for them alone, and make this explanation in order to set this good man right. He takes and pays for the Nigger, and when writing for it signs his name to his communications.

We are reliably informed that not long ago, in this county, a man's wife died, and he went out to a neighbor and asked for a pint of liquor to brace up on. He got it. In a short while he returned for another bottle full, but the neighbor feeling that he had braced up enough, refused to let him have any more. This is worse than heathenism, but it is not far enough away to come under this head, according to the rules.

The assistant United States geologist has come and gone, but what kind of a report he will make we do not know. He was raised in a county containing but little gold and what he knows is gathered from books and people, which doesn't amount to much. Uncle Peter Garrett, who has worked in the mines for years, is more able to give a correct report of the mineral resources of the county than any "book man," and needs the salary worse, yet it goes to the one having the most book "learning."

Hens sold here last week at 30 cents each.

Mr. Ollie Jones left for Alabama Tuesday.

The Standard Oil Co. has a wagon and is furnishing our citizens with oil.

Miss Dessie Black of Dawson county, came up last week to visit her sister, Mrs. Wm. Jones.

Col. Farrow will throw the doors of his hotel open at Porter Springs first of next month.

The other day Mr. Ben Ravan killed an eagle measuring five feet and five inches from tip to tip.

The clouds cleared away Friday night, and Saturday was the first clear day we have had in near three weeks, and spring weather is here.

A little 18 months old child belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Miner of Dawson county, was killed near Etowah church in the lower portion of this county last Sunday during a runaway, caused by the mule attached to a buggy getting scared at a bicycle. The father and mother were both bruised up considerably but not seriously injured. The mother and babe fell out in front of the buggy and were dragged near a half mile. The lady endeavored to turn her child loose and save it but its skull was crushed and death occurred in less than two hours.

While taking our morning stroll this week we heard the music of a battling stick in the hands of a young lady before sun up. Later, long after sun rise, we passed houses where the girls were in bed, being worried and tired from sitting up near 12 o'clock thumping on a music box likely, while their mothers were preparing breakfast. This causes many mothers to be in bad health and hard times staring them in the face. Now don't get mad at us and cry out "infidel," and stop your paper. If you do, more than the printer will know who you are.

On last Saturday morning awhile before day Uncle Clark Bryant's residence, out in the country, was totally destroyed by fire and lost about everything he had, even to his bread corn which he had shelled up and stored away. The fire originated in the kitchen, caused by a defective stove flue, and when they awoke the roof was almost ready to fall in. The dwelling was a log house only a few feet from the kitchen, having only one door and it was next to the fire. Two of his grand-daughters carried out a few things. One's clothing caught a fire and she was pretty severely burned trying to save what she could of the old gentleman's things, who was powerless to do anything from extreme old age, being about 60. Next day an appeal was made to the citizens of Dahlonega by one of his friends for help, but all they had to spare was recently sent off to the heathens except $15.75, one wealthy man giving only 25 cents, who not long ago contributed $25.00 to the heathens. Men, just think of this poor old man who has been a strict member of the Baptist church forty-three years and a deacon for twenty-three, not being provided for no better than this in the time of need and distress. Later on a kind old christian gentleman sent Mr. Bryant a lot of dishes, that are not included in the above amount.

Auraria Items.

Some of our farmers are through planting corn.

Mr. T. C. Hutcheson of Freda, visited his parents at Auraria, Sunday.

Miss Barilla Smith of Hodwig, was the guest of Miss Annie Hutcheson, Sunday.

Rev. N. A. White preached a very interesting sermon at the Methodist church Sunday.

There was a wedding down near the Briar Patch a few days ago. Mr. Jack Norrell and Miss Minnie Chambers were the contracting parties and Justice of the Peace, W. B. Lowe, performed the ceremony. We hope they will have a long, happy and prosperous life.

Mining Notes.

The Consolidated Co. has its annual meeting in Ohio today.

The Crown Mountain people are so well pleased with the results of the mine that they are going to complete the Gorge dam in order to be able to run at all seasons of the year. The logs are all about cut and teams were put to work hauling them in last Monday. At the mine a new cut was started this week on the Sand vein which will make four cuts now.

The dirt work of the Cavenders Creek canal was completed this week. The tunnel is the biggest trouble now as the most of it is rock, but they are pushing it as rapidly as possible.

Mr. Wm. Ricketts informs us that he expects to have the Ingersoll and Crisson boat ready for operation by the 1st of next month. Then we may expect to hear of good results as it is located in a good place in the Chestatee river, which contains a great deal of the yellow metal.

Rev. C. M. Ferguson is becoming deeply interested in the mineral resources of this county. He says there is copper and mica both a few miles above Dahlonega on and near the foot of the mountain in large enough quantities as to be of interest to the public. At no distant day we may expect to see many of the properties alive with men digging out these valuable minerals.

The Camp Ground Services.

EDITOR NIGGER:

The reunion at the old Lumpkin camp ground Wednesday the 19th of May, 1903, was very well attended, although it was a gloomy day. The morning services were half over when I got there. All the old soldiers had told their experience. Brother was preaching when I got there. He had just said a whole lot of good things. From some cause, I don't know, Capt. Venable did not get there as was expected. Neither did Rev. M. J. Coper, as was announced. But there was plenty to eat. All those folks down in Dawson are mighty clever, and as good as anybody. Yes, at the close of the morning session it was announced that there would be preaching at 2 o'clock p. m. When I had a chance to tell a part of my experience, and Brother N. H. Jay gave an old time, warm, holy ghost exhortation. Then some good singing and a feeling prayer by Brother Barrett. I was glad to see my old orderly Sergeant, Brother Cox, but sorry to see him like myself, on crutches. But thank God, his heart is right before God, I think, and his face was bright and gave an expression of his acceptance with God. He, like others, will not be here long, but has an assurance of a better home on the other side of the river. There was another friend of mine, John Sober - as good a soldier as was ever in the war, true to his country. He is always on hand at all the reunions, and Bros. Hughes, Kitchens, Jay and Wallace. And just a whole lot of others that I can't name for want of space.

The meeting of old soldiers adjourned to meet at the same place and have one more day. It was agreed that they should have Friday before the 5th Sunday in August. That will be their camp meeting. I want, as a brother, to ask all who get a pension and who don't, to be present. One thought or two I wish to mention. If I am alive and able I will be there. Say, my old comrades and brother soldiers, God has been, and is still good to us. Let us all give our hearts to Him and watch and be sober and loyal to Him as soldiers of Christ, as we were to him that commended us in the war.

God bless our nation, and save us all from further war. Exempt against sin and the devil.

Affectionally yours,

J. NEWTON AUSTIN.

A Trifle Mean.

They were talking about the various types of human meanness that had come under their respective observation and were descending upon them as everybody has a perfect right to do when the exemplars thereof are not present, says the Philadelphia Enquirer.

"By gum!" said one. Old "Slug" Robinson is the meanest man I know. He won't wash his hands because he hates to lose the dirt on them."

"He must be a blood relation of a man that used to own a farm on the hillside above the farm where I was raised," said a second. "I remember one spring he wanted to sue my father for $20, the price of an acre of ground that he claimed had been washed off of his place on to father's by the winter rains. He would have done it, too, but he couldn't find a lawyer that would take the case."

"He isn't much meaner than the deacon of the church I used to attend," said a third. "He paid the sexton only a dollar a month for taking care of the church, and then wanted to charge him for the rope that he wore out ringing the bell."

"I'll bet he was first cousin to a chap I used to know," said a fourth, "who wouldn't chew tobacco because he couldn't afford to lose the juice."

"He's the same one," inquired a fifth, "who spoiled a fox terrier by not cutting off his tail, because he didn't want to waste so much dog, ain't he?"

"Yes."

"I thought so. I know his brother. He lives in St. Louis. Was two of his clerks boarding with him, and when his wife died a year ago he asked them to sit up with the body and then charged them extra for burning gas after midnight."

"Oh!" exclaimed everybody, and the narrator bowed his acknowledgments.

Facts About Folks.

In estimation of measurement, men are more accurate than women.

Moral action in child life is more a matter of imitation than intellect.

Dull children are the most unruly, and unruly children are the dullest.

Sweet is tasted best on the tip of the tongue, sour on the edge and bitter at the base.

Mental images themselves constitute the motive, the springs of action for all we do.

Girls show less interest in material things than boys and admire the aesthetic more.

Those who have endured the most hardship in life are usually the least sensitive to pain.

Blushing comes from shyness and fear, is unnatural and morbid and is greater in women than in men.

Rapid readers do their work better, as well as in less time, and retain more of the substance of what is read than slow readers.

The Brute.

"Wha-a-t's the matter John?" gasped Mrs. Torque. "Don't you like the new dishes I've cooked?"

"Where did you get the recipe?" "Out of the cookbook, of course. Why?"

"Don't you think that you happened to get the cookbook mixed with some dialect story? This dish tastes like it."—Baltimore Herald.

"Ma, will you hollow if I bite you, say?"

"My child, that would be very painful for me, and I might scream."

"Well, then, what's the reason Sary didn't scream when that singing school master bit her right in the mouth, and bit her hard, too, 'cause she put her arms round his neck and tried to choke him. Why didn't she hollow, say!"

The Widow's Cow.

At the meeting of bankers in Clay Centre, Kan., last week, says the Kansas City Journal, E. P. Blake, responding to the toast, "Securities," told of a young widow who got into financial straits and borrowed from his bank $20 on the security of a fine Jersey cow. It nearly broke her heart, she said, to pledge the animal, which was almost as dear to her as her children. Then came a long period in which she renewed the note, time after time, sometimes paying interest and sometimes not, and always distressing the bank officer with her sorrowful talk. "One day," proceeds the story, "she showed up in a most sorrowful frame of mind than usual, and with more tears and wetter tears also than usual, announced that she had given up the struggle. The cow was dead and she was wearing her life out under the weight of a debt unsecured and which she saw no prospect of ever being able to pay. She wanted it discharged."

"The cashier took to the woods, telling me that it was no use for the bank to monkey longer with that paper; to treat the woman as nicely as I could, making her burden as light as possible, dry up the fountain of tears, then go over to the register of deeds' office with her and have the mortgage released. All of which I did in my smoothest and most gentlemanly way. Just as we were coming out of the Court House curiosity got the better of me, and more as a space filler than anything else, I said:

"Madam, now that this is all settled, when did your cow die and how did it happen?"

"She had wiped her tears away by this time and was radiant and smiling, a poem in contradictions. Turning to me, she said:

"My dear boy, you tell that sweet cashier of yours that the butcher killed the cow two years ago."

"Almost Lived There."

During a burglary epidemic in the country an inspector of the police force one night made a tour through the burglarized district. Considerably after midnight he saw a young man emerge noiselessly from a substantial homestead and made after him.

"Did you just come out of that corner house?" the inspector asked, overhauling him.

The young man, while of respectable appearance, was plainly ill at ease and confused.

"I did," he said.

"Do you live there?" demanded the inspector.

"Well, almost," was the embarrassed answer. "But I can't see that it's any of your business as long as her father doesn't object."—London Tit-Bits.

DOCTORS' CAVES.—It was formerly the practice among physicians to carry a cane having a hollow head, the top of which was gold, pierced with holes like a pepper box. The top contained a small quantity of aromatic powder, or of snuff, and on entering a house or room where a disease supposed to be infectious prevailed, the doctor would strike his cane on the floor to agitate the powder and then apply it to his nose. Hence all the old prints of physicians represent them with canes to their noses.

A little girl, just past her fifth year, while chattering about the beaux that visited two of the sex in the same house of mature age, being asked "what do you mean by beaux?" Annie replied, "Why, I mean men that has not got much sense."

A beautiful lady was kissing and caressing her beautiful lap dog.—"Ah, Maria!" exclaimed her foppish adorer, why not grant me the favors you are wasting on Riddle?"

"I don't kiss every puppy," replied the pouting fair.

A young man once told Dr. Bethune that he had enlisted in the army of Zion: "In which church," asked the Doctor, "in the Baptist," was the reply. "I should call that joining the navy," was the Doctor's response.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure Them Both.

Dr. Miles' Nerve is a specific for nervous disorders. It removes the cause and effects a speedy and permanent cure.

"I feel it my duty to let you know that your medicines have cured my little girl of nervousness. She commenced having them at the age of three. Our family doctor said she would outgrow them but she did not. We took her to another physician who said her trouble was epileptic fits in a mild form. He did her no good either. She was so nervous she could not walk. As I had already used Dr. Miles' Nerve and found it a good remedy for myself I commenced giving it to my child. I gave her in all ten bottles of the Nerve and one of the Homeopathic. That was over two years ago and she has not had an attack since we commenced the treatment. She is no longer troubled with nervousness and we consider her permanently cured. I enclose her picture. My mother-in-law lost her reason and was away for three months from the effects of LaGrippe. Six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nerve cured her. My sister has also taken it for headache with good results. I am all thank you very much for your good medicines and kind advice. I don't think there is any other medicine half so good. I send my daughter's photograph so that you may see what a sweet little girl lives out in Arkansas."—MRS. HANNAH BARKETT, Springdale, Ark.

Wouldn't There be a Great Difference?

TO THE WORLD:

Wouldn't this be a pleasant old world if people would always try to look as well as they do when they're having their picture taken? What if folks would always appear as nice as when "fixing" to go visiting? What if girls were always as pleasant and kept the parlor as neat and tidied up as they are and do when looking for their beaux? What if they were to be always as polite, kind, smooth-tempered, loving and angel-like to and before their mother as they are to and before their inamorato? What if young men were to wear always the sweet halcyon smile and look that they do when with their inamorato? What if they were always as kind, polite and obliging to father and mother, as they are to their best girl? What if the whole family were always as pleasant and obliging to each other all the time as they are when before their friends? If they were, oh just think of the many miserable homes today that would be turned into pleasant ones! Think what a charming and pleasant old world this would be! Wouldn't life be worth the living then! Wouldn't many cramped and terrified souls then reign in the sweetest of ecstasy! It would be like basking in the sunny clime of sweet deliverance upon a holyon shore, where peace and love reign supreme, surrounded by elysian bowers of the most delicate hue. Life then would be so sweet! Home would be so pleasant! Troubled souls would have peace! Heavy hearts would be made light! Ecstasy, ecstasy, every where ecstasy! OMER PAUL.

EDITOR NUGGET:

Let the mode of praise be given to him that deserves praise. The town of Franklin, Macon county, North Carolina, is 25 miles from Clayton, and about 50 from Gainesville, Ga., and 25 further from Dahlonega, making about 100 miles. In the fall and winter past, it took mail about six days, and now it takes it about four days to arrive at Dahlonega from Franklin, N. C.

Who deserves praise for this change for the better? I take the "Franklin Press," a nice weekly sheet published at this town, and when it comes to hand it's like a letter from home, as in this county is my native home. And at this little city the mail makes an average of 25 miles per day, but when the railroad is finished to Franklin, N. C., and also to Dahlonega, then the train will bring the mail at a rapid rate to Lumpkin county, Georgia state and make the trip to Dahlonega in less than twenty-four hours. N. F. HOWARD.

A Pana (Ill.) girl wants $2,500 damages from a man who she charges with having dislocated her shoulder while hugging her against her will. The man who is a school teacher, says it was all done in a spirit of fun in the presence of the girl's mother. If he dislocated a shoulder when "only in fun" we suppose if he started out to do some hugging in real earnest the girl would not have an unbroken bone left in her body. A bear wouldn't be in it with this man.—Ex.

Mr. J. A. Atkins on last Friday plowed up 560 minnie balls, caps and powder, on Mr. S. C. Milam's farm near Kennesaw mountain. The powder and caps were well preserved and exploded after thirty-six years of deposit in mother earth.—Marietta Journal.

Testing The Trolley.

When the overhead trolley system was installed in Mexico City the native Indian, apart from their wonderment as to what unseen force propelled the cars, were anxious to test the new power, says the New York Mail and Express. They began by trying to stop the car with their hands and later with their heads and bodies, until the list of casualties became great.

Then a brilliant idea struck them. They had often been to bull fights, and at certain of these had watched a peculiar opening ceremony which originated in Mexico, and later introduced into Spain. Before the bull is set loose in the arena a man clothed in white from head to foot poses as a statue in the center of the ring. His face and hair are whitened, and he stands without a movement or a flutter of clothing or anything that would tend to show that he is alive.

When the bull is released he first sniffs the air and makes a mad rush for the pedestal. Getting quite close, he stops and snorts, gazing at the figure. Seeing no movement, he gradually retires backward in amazement. His attention is then attracted by others and the man escapes.

The Indians decided to try this on the cars. Dressing themselves in white and putting flour on their faces and hair they would stand motionless in the middle of the car track facing the coming monster. There were many ambulance calls before they learned the difference between a bull and a trolley ley car.

Among the things which now seem to be established by scientific methods of investigation is that tuberculosis, the old-fashioned consumption, is no hereditary. It is preventable and curable. The best feature of the new treatment is the disuse of all medicines, and dependence by the physicians up on three things: pure air and plenty of it, nourishing food in abundance, and absolute rest, observes the Christian Register. Taking the disease in time, the Massachusetts board of health is able to report that a majority of cases are easily cured. When those who consider themselves candidates for consumption get rid of the nightmare of heredity, and take to the fresh air, under proper conditions, the danger passes. Even without the aid of any antidote which may be discovered, the prospect is that within the lifetime of this generation tuberculosis will become as rare as hydrophobia, and then disappear entirely. One of the best things about it, according to the testimony of an expert physician, is that any climate will do, and that any place is wholesome, if only plenty of pure air can be furnished the patient both by day and by night.

It has been estimated that the expensive fads of President Roosevelt have already cost the country $744,013.33. Of this sum about $175,000 was spent transforming the Mayflower to his liking. Sreuous Presidents certainly come high, but they can be excused under the head of necessary evils.—Marietta Journal.

One of the recent achievements in by brilliant plants is the grafting of the tomato upon the potato vine. This interesting results has been produced at the Minnesota experiment station, which exhibits a flower pot with a plant that at the roots is putting forth potatoes of a high grade and above the ground several well developed tomatoes, some of which have ripened.—American Farmer.

Here, says an exchange, is a case almost without a parallel: A man and a woman living in Oklahoma were married a number of years ago, and both are now past fortieth milepost on life's highway. Just about two years ago, the couple, who had lived together for years, and had accumulated considerable property, decided to separate over some trivial matter. The woman sued for a divorce and it was granted. In the division of the property which followed the home in Denison came into the possession of the husband. Now, the wife took a notion that she didn't want to move out of the home, and so she made a proposition to her divorced husband that he should rent the property to her. The husband agreed, on the condition that she rent him a room in the house and allow him to board with her. The divorced wife agreed. The arrangement has proven satisfactory. She pays her former husband $1250 a month rent. He pays his former wife $15.00 for board and room and they get along finely—so the neighbors say.

Girls anxious to marry, who are willing to take the chances inseparable from all such contrivances brought about by advertising, may hear of something to their advantage by addressing one G. Winger, at Mexico, Mo. He doesn't seem to be hard to please, the principal accomplishment required being ability to milk a cow. This, however is indispensable, and one widow who came over from Kansas City was rejected because she "could not milk." The applicant he has an eighty-acre farm, two children and some good stock, all of which he is willing to share with any good woman, maid or widow, who is able to milk and does not put on too much style. Perhaps what Mr. Winger really wants is a milking machine instead of a wife, and as there is always more or less danger connected with matrimonial ventures, especially those undertaken at long range, the safest plan in this case would seem to be the purchase of an automatic rather than a live manipulator of the lacteal glands.—Ex.

Indiana has advanced to the front as a progressive State by being the first to enact a law compelling the counties to keep in good repair the roads on which the rural routes have been established. The law provides that 5 per cent. of the roads shall be set aside to keep the rural routes in good condition. The department at Washington is said to be much pleased at this action, and Indiana is sure to reap the benefit by being given preference in making extensions.

well and has many anxious readers.

A dispatch to The Chronicle,
from Guthrie, Oklahoma, says:
the finding of $2,000,000 buried treasure is reported from Winzies,
a small town on Salt Fork River,
in Western Oklahoma. The treasure was unearthed on the farm of Charles Morland, who gave his consent to a mysterious stranger digging on his land, one-tenth of the treasure discovered. The farmer received $200,000 and the mysterious stranger immediately disappeared. He came into the neighborhood recently persuasible from the east, bringing a map describing the location of the treasure.

"The Evils of Dahlonega."

Rev. Mr. Gunn announced by sending round cards last Friday and Saturday that he would preach Sunday night. Subject:
"Evils of Dahlonega." By the time the second bell rang the church was crowded. Some husbands being anxious to learn what was said and not wishing to be present, for fear they would get a scolding, sent their wives so they would be sure to get the news.

He discussed four different subjects as follows: Sabbath breaking, swearing, liquor drinking and tattling. On the latter his remarks were mostly addressed to the ladies. The Sunday subject was directed only to our Sunday mail and Sunday newspapers. All his remarks were pretty warm, but those in reverence to profanity were the severest, remarking that he had the least use for the swearer of any, for a man that would use the name of God in vain would steal.

After discussing these subjects at length he ordered the sexton to close the doors and let no one out, for he was going to let the "cat out of the wallet." Then he removed a piece of paper from his pocket and stated that he wanted to raise $175 to buy a gospel tent to be moved from place to place in the country and used it for religious services, but to remain
the property of the Baptist church.

Col. W. P. Price had already subscribed $25, besides a few others of less amounts, and if any thing was given by the congregation it is not known.

Now in reference to swearing we will admit that it is a bad habit, but people who are just as honest as Mr. Gunn or any one else, do it some times. And if he wishes to associate with only those who do not swear he will look mighty lonesome hereafter, and have small congregations from now on.

In reference to the tent. If the people here do buy one and it is carried out into the mountains and Mr. Gunn occupies it and repeats his remarks about the drinking and swearing men, he will have no text long, resulting maybe in several persons going to the chain gang, brought about by remarks made by a man who takes the advantage of the pulpit in making them, if he didn't he would carry a skinned head no doubt. At least, we would and know better than to try it without being shielded in some manner.

Just a short time ago a preacher out west left the pulpit and joined a circus. If Mr. Gunn would do this he could put on tights, act the clown and say all he wanted to without any exception being taken to it, but such acts and remarks like his do not take well in church.

Contributions from various places and persons still continue being sent to the white lady who refused to make up Booker Washington's bed. Several hundred dollars have already reached this lady.

ed to represent this district, which speaks much for the doctor.

Last Sunday Mr. R. C. Minders, was poisoned by eating salad gathered from a potato patch where Paris Green had been used to kill the bugs on the latter. The first life of salad made him sick causing him to vomit at once, and his throat and tongue are still sore from the effects of the poison.
Fortunately none of the rest had eaten any. This should be a warning. Use no salad where Paris
Green or any other poison has been used.

Mining Notes.

JOB WORK.

Local News.

Prof. Boyd returned to the Cavender Creek mine last week.

We have plenty of visiting cards on hand, at from 15 to 25 cents per hundred.

The little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ricketts died last Sunday at about noon. Both of whom have our sympathies. This one makes the sixth they have lost in a few years.

Mr. Wm. Ricketts caught a carp last Saturday on his trap in the Chestate river weighing ten pounds, causing nearly all those fond of fishing to turn out the Monday following with new lines and long poles.

The report has got out here that Mrs. Miner, who was recently injured in a runaway and lost her child by its skull being crushed, is dead, but we are glad to state that it is not correct. The lady is alive and will recover.

Luster Cavender of this county, who shot a fellow some time ago in Pickens and died at the time, has recently been arrested. The ball took effect in the man's arm and ranged upward. Luster was also slightly shot in the franks.

Mrs. Calhoun, of Atlanta, who spent last summer in Dahlonega, was so well pleased with our climate, pure water and healthy atmosphere, that she has returned again, having arrived some time ago, much earlier than last season.

Mr. H. B. Crawford, cashier of the Bank of Dahlonega, after an absence from the city several days, for recreation and rest, returned last Saturday and is again at his post of duty greeting his many friends and patrons with a pleasant smile.

We have reduced the price of Justices Court summons so that no official using such blanks can afford to do without them. By the hundred we will let you have them at from 50 to 75 cents. Owing to the length of paper they are printed on. We have two sizes.

Mr. J. H. Carter, president of the Bank of Dahlonega, after being here for about ten days, returned to Blue Ridge last Sunday. Mr. Carter has several banks in Georgia doing a prosperous business, proving that he is a man of big means, good judgment and knows how to transact business on business principles.

Sheriff Davis and Mr. George Walker made a kind of a pleasure trip over to Ducktown last week, and during the time came across John Barker, formerly of Lumpkin county, but now located in Fannin, who is wanted here for carrying a pistol and selling liquor. John made bond and will likely be over to see us in the fall when the Superior court convenes.

Mr. Richard Dawdy of this county, who was dropped from the government pension roll some time ago, has been reinstated, and will now get nearly eight hundred dollars, being allowed back pay from the time he was dropped, and $12 per month from now on. This is a big help to the old man in his declining years and we are glad that he has been successful.

Those three little babes—triplets—who were recently left motherless in this county, are needing more assistance than their great aunt can give them. Small contributions from our citizens would be a great help to these little ones by enabling the kind friend in whose hands they have fallen, to give them proper attention. Remember that some tender assistance to people that live many hundred miles away, and these little ones left without a kind mother to care for them should not be allowed to suffer. Their father is a very poor man and can't provide for their wants as they ought to be, having three other small children besides. What preacher will take the matter in hand and ask for contributions to buy them a cow?

Several of the young people of Dahlonega attended a dance out at Cavender's Creek last Saturday night.

Col. Jones, president of the Cavender Creek mine, was quite sick for awhile last Friday. He was in Dahlonega the previous day all right but became unwell during the night.

Up at Cano Creek falls some one, full of mischief, has been getting in his work by turning over one of the bath houses and filling up the spring with brush. So, before the bathers enjoy them selves much some repairs will have to be made.

At J. E. Moore & Co. you will find wire cloth for screen doors and windows. Boy's summer suits 50 cents up. Bargains in low cut shoes. Bargains in hammocks. Johnson's Sarsaparilla, full quarts for 65 cents. Columbia incandescent lamps, clear, frosty and colored.

Our old friend, Mr. John A. Parker of Atlanta, arrived in the city this week. He is just back from North Carolina, the home of his boyhood days. For many years he was a citizen of Dahlonega and pays the place a visit when he can, the residents of which are always glad to see him in our midst.

The Nugget is read with interest by people both far and near. One of our New York subscribers writing to us this week on business, among other things compliments us in the following terms: "I receive your valuable paper regular, and wish to say to you, I consider it the most progressing, spiciest, and thoroughly up-to-date weekly, I know of." Thanks. Nice compliments like the above are highly appreciated.

Little Billie of the Signal, took occasion week before last, to compare the editor of the Nugget to Dives, and intimated that its editor "would some day 'lift up his eyes from that fiery pit.' The next day after the Signal appeared a notice was stuck up on the door stating that the little editor was sick and no paper appeared from that office last week. This week the lemon extract sick spell continues with him and likely that paper will fail to appear again.

Rev. W. M. Grindle of Willow, Ga., who has been working down at the Dunlap shoals in Hall county for several months, dropped in to see us Saturday with a dollar for subscription as a renewal, having been a constant patron and a reader of the Nugget for nearly seven years, who says he is well pleased with it because the news is all given. On account of Mr. Grindle's engagement at work he is unable to attend but one church. Last year more than 40 persons were converted and joined his church.

We have just learned that Mrs. B. R. Meaders made a suit of clothes each for the triplets of Mr. John Deeter and sent them to the little ones some days ago. The work was done by this kind hearted lady while in bed, unable to sit up. This is certainly a christian act and one that will be remembered by both the people and the Lord. Our information about this donation didn't come from Mrs. Meaders nor any of her folks, but from the other end of the line, showing how well the little ones' friends appreciate this act of charity.

During the Union meeting here recently a minister from the country attended one time. A request was made by Bro. Gunn for each church in the county to give $1.00 each for foreign missions. This minister reported it to his church but told the members that when they did it they could get them another pastor. The foreign missions ministers request was not complied with and the roof country preacher still holds his stand. And at his church from 15 to 30 are converted and join the church every year—last year 32, we believe.

A lot of cane seed for sale by M. J. Williams.

If you are looking for blank options we have them cheap.

Mr. John Hatfield will go down to Gainesville in a short while and run a restaurant in that city.

Mr. J. H. Moore last Thursday purchased Mr. J. E. McGee's one-sixth interest in what is known as the Mohow property.

Bro. Davidson of Cleveland, says we need a mail from that place to Dahlonega. By proper connection at Half Way we can have it.

Mr. J. M. Brooks has been awarded the contract of running an ice wagon from Gainesville and furnishing our citizens with ice this season.

A farmer returning from Gainesville last week, stated that the price of chickens had dropped from 35 and 38 to 25 cents, and doll at that.

Mr. James Phillips has completed his residence, a little over a mile out of town on the Cooper Gap road, but will still run his shoe shop in Dahlonega.

The Purdy Calhoun Mining Co. has rented two nice rooms in what was once known as the Hall House, for offices. This is a very desirable place and a very suitable place for the business.

We have been invited up to Porter Springs by Col. Farrow on the first day of its opening this season, but are sorry that we cannot be on hand, for we always enjoyed going to the Queen of the Mountains, the most favorite summer resort in Georgia.

We are glad to note that since our last issue, a number of persons in Dahlonega are helping Mr. Clark Bryant in the way of household goods, who recently lost his dwelling and contents by fire. The Lord is sure to bless those who assist in time of need like this.

We saw a right interesting sight early Saturday morning, while most of the inhabitants were slumbering, of a sensational nature, but as there was no minister along to relate the story it is "against christianity" for us to tell it, on account of being a printer, is the opinion of some.

LOWEST WATER MARK ON SHOES.—Men's $3.50 vici calf, at $8.00. The $2.50 at $2.00, and so on down the line. The best ladies' vici shoes in Georgia. Colonial and all other shoes in seasonable goods never heard of prices in Dahlonega before.

H. D. GURLEY.

Prof. Bittain of Atlanta, who has been here for about a couple of weeks for the benefit of the teachers in the Normal course of the college, left for his home last Friday. We had a visit from the professor the day before he left and were glad to get to form his acquaintance. His stay here was very profitable to all attending the Normal department.

Mr. Wm. Waters of Nimberville district, was acquitted last Friday of the charge of running an illicit distillery near his house some time ago. Commissioner Baker was convinced that he was not the operator and told Bill to go his way rejoicing. Some years ago he was up before Judge Newman for a similar offense but his honor taught Bill a lesson and learned "him to sin no more."

In a few days more the college comes to a close and many pleasant faces will greet us no more for three months. Some students, we will never see again, likely, as their college days are over and they expect to branch out into the world and begin the toils of life. To all those going away to spend the vacation, we wish a pleasant time and a safe return in the fall. Those fixing to start up life's ladder, we trust will reach the top most round in safety and be able to clutch success without falling, so all acquaintances and friends can point to them with pride and cause them to feel happy as long as they live.

We learn that Mrs. Hughes Anderson of Alabama, is back on a visit.

Rev. Mr. Blackwell will preach here at the Presbyterian church next Sunday.

Miss Susan McDonald, after an absence of several weeks in Alabama, returned last Monday.

Several of the young people of Dahlonega attended a dance out at Cavender's Creek last Saturday night.

Mr. W. C. Thomas informs us that he had a mess of Irish potatoes last Sunday. He takes the cake for the first in this section.

Mr. H. D. Gurley has returned from Columbus, Ga., where he has been fishing on a large scale, and enjoyed his trip very much.

Last Tuesday as Mr. Miller Davis was coming to town he killed a rattle snake near Hall's field in little over a half mile of Dahlonega.

Mr. John Jenkins now has charge of the Cavender Creek tunnel. He fully understands his business and will do the work right.

Frank Lowery, a colored man living a few miles from Dahlonega, has a sow with five pigs and four of them have feet like a mule, not forked.

Rev. N. A. White filled the pulpit of the Methodist church at this place last Sunday. His sermon was listened to with much interest by all present.

Mr. John Butler was up a few days ago before Com. Baker, charged with blockading, but as the testimony wasn't sufficient to bind him he was released.

Two second hand buggies in good order. One set single and one pair double buggy harness. Will sell all cheaply or swap for Com. B. R. MEADES & SONS.

The little babe of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Ricketts died last Sunday at about noon. Both of whom have our sympathies. This one makes the sixth they have lost in a few years.

We are requested to state that there will be an all day singing at Concord church next Sunday in both the old and new books. Several good singers will be present. Every body invited to come and bring dinner.

The Corona Society will give no entertainment at the approaching commencement which will cause less interest to be felt on Monday night, the time the exercises have been held ever since the organization of this society.

On account of Rev. Mr. White not feeling well enough to fill his appointment down at Son's Chapel last Sunday, Rev. Mr. Marks went down and filled his place. It was children's day and many people were present to enjoy the occasion.

The first of the week U. S. Deputy Marshal Grizzle brought in Walter Anderson, Bishop Anderson and Lester Parks from Dawson county, who are charged with blockading. All three made a temporary bond until next Thursday when their cases will be investigated here by Com. Baker.

A number of persons of Dahlonega attended meeting out at Mill Creek church last Sunday, some nine or ten miles from here.

Rev. J. E. Blackburn of Dahlonega, is the pastor and all seem to be well pleased with him. Years ago many people were afraid to attend church at that place on account of the drinking and rowing. At one meeting three or four fellows came driving up in the church yard drunk, the buggy turned over and out rolled a two gallon jug full of liquor. Things have changed since then and people can go there now and serve the Lord without any uneasiness unless parties come from another county and misbehave, but this will soon stop now, as some of the evil doers have been severely punished for such conduct by the court recently.

The daily mail from here to Porter begins next Monday.

Rev. N. A. White will preach at Rock Springs next Sunday.

Mrs. Willis Glaze, formerly of Lumpkin county, died in White last Sunday.

A picnic by the Corona Society down at Wimpy's mill was one of the pleasure of the day last Monday.

Beginning next Monday the mail on the lower route will leave here at 8 o'clock, and arrives here at 4:45. This schedule continues until Sept. 30.

Quarterly meeting will be held at Son's Chapel next Saturday, and at Dahlonega on Monday at 11 o'clock. The presiding Elder expects to be present.

Our new subscriptions and renewals have continued very good since our last issue, coming in every day, Sunday not excepted. Thanks, gentlemen.

The regular monthly meeting of the colored Baptist people at this place was held last Saturday and Sunday. They were here Sunday for miles around and all seemed to be deeply interested in what the preacher said.

Two boys one about sixteen and the other older, rode in a buggy and took in the sights of the town last Sunday while under the influence of liquor. That is one did. The other was too full to hold up his head well.

The Bible says that charity should begin at home and we hope to see the day when all the people of this town and county will carry out its instructions. When this is done times will be better both financially and spiritually.

The closing exercises of the public school will be held in the Court house Saturday morning next (May 30), at 10 o'clock. As heretofore, the exercises will be simple, consisting of recitations, declamations, songs, &c.

Respectfully
J. M. MARTIN.

Those who attended Oak Grove church last Sunday report a good meeting and a large attendance. Rev. Taylor Dowdy has been its pastor for years and never fails to tell his congregation something of interest and beneficial, provided the listeners will take his advice. We intended to be present but was providentially hindered.

Mr. J. H. Robinson of this county, who has been engaged up at Tallulah Falls for some time, was in Dahlonega first of the week hiring teams to go to that place to haul. Mr. Robinson has charge of the construction of a large lake, working near 30 hands, and his long experience in mining and other work here enables him to tell them where to throw the dirt to the best advantage.

Rev. W. H. McAfee, who was present last Sunday night and heard Rev. Mr. Gunn discuss the "Evils of Dahlonega," informs us that at some time in the near future he will give out an appointment as to the time he will appear at the court house and reply to what the young divine has said about certain things. No doubt it will be an interesting occasion as Mr. McAfee has been a citizen of Dahlonega for many years and knows as much about the place and people as any man living.

While on our usual morning stroll last Tuesday we went down to the Consolidated plant and found Mr. Frank Griffin, the gentleman who furnishes the town with lighting, busy at his post of duty, where he has been for the past two years. Many times during severe electric storms he has remained at his post and kept the machinery moving at the risk of his life, while the lightning was playing about on the wires all over his head, for if he stopped if the people of the town would be in darkness. This plant furnishes more than five hundred incandescent lights at this place at a much cheaper rate than any other city can obtain them.

Miss Estelle Harris of Murrayville, paid friends a visit in Dahlonega this week.

For sale by W. P. Price, Jr., one good milk cow. The object of the sale is because he has two. Call at once.

We regret to learn that one of Prof. Boyd's little girls, Martha, fell from a hammock last Sunday and broke one of her legs just below the knee.

Those shoes at H. D. Gurleys can't be beat in town for durability, quality and price. Call and examine them if you need any thing in this line.

There are about 30 cadets absent from drill now with mumps. Some are taking them while others have recovered enough to attend college but Dr. Wichehel won't allow them to drill in 30 days from the time they take them.

The young ladies of the dormitory enjoyed themselves Monday afternoon taking a straw ride to Cano Creek falls, and upon their return took in the principal streets of the town singing, Good bye, my lover, good bye, causing some of the young men's hearts to flutter beneath their breasts like a wounded humming bird.

Gen. Mooney of this county, was adjudged a lunatic by a jury last Monday, and will be sent to the asylum as soon as the authorities send a notice of his acceptance. Not many years ago Mooney was sent to the asylum from this county, and after remaining a short time, returned. Dr. Powell likely thinking that he had recovered.

We are glad to learn that our young friend Mr. B. P. Gaillard, formerly of Dahlonega, but now located in Gainesville, is making his mark in the legal profession. We were informed the other day that he was interested in nearly every case that came before the recent term of the City Court. He is also attorney for the city. Three cheers for the Dahlonega boy.

Our old friend and patron, Mr. W. H. Smith of Tennesse, dropped into the Nugget office last Saturday to give us a dollar, handed him by one of his sons at Grace for another years subscription to the Nugget he, himself, had renewed his only a few days previous, who was requested to tell us to send the Nugget on, for he couldn't do without it. The old gentleman has raised six grown sons and none of them drink any liquor, and another important item is, they all take and pay for the Nugget, and the father besides. They are all good enterprising citizens and a benefit to their county.

Some months ago a boy of this county, thinking that he had to work too hard at home and could do better away, ran off. After rambling about for awhile he set in to labor for a farmer at $8.50 per month. He had to rise at 3 o'clock in the morning and make a fire. Then he fed. Then he cut wood till breakfast, and after eating went out to plow till dark, stopping but a short time at noon. Not long ago he returned home, and for the first time realized how beautiful the song of "Home, Sweet Home," was. Boys who have any inclination of leaving their parents should remember this, for they will find no place like home.

The city tax assessors have just completed their work and found the amount of taxable property within the corporate limits to be $4200.80 as against $4101.50 last year, being an increase of $90.30, which should be very encouraging to the tax payers, as it may be now that the council will be able to reduce the assessment some this year. As a grade of the public school has been dropped and less pupils in attendance now than a couple of years ago during the boom, there is some talk of dispensing with the services of one of the teachers. If this is done the assessment will certainly be less. But let due caution be used so as not to injure the school even if it does take more money.

Some Important Changes.

The following is a synopsis of a ruling of the United States supreme court in important cases regarding newspaper subscriptions:

"1. Subscribers who do not give express notice to the contrary are considered of wishing to renew their subscription.

"2. If subscribers order the discontinuance of their periodicals the publisher may continue to send them until all arrearages are paid.

"3. If subscribers neglect or refuse to take their periodicals from the post office to which they are directed they are responsible until they have settled their bills and ordered the paper discontinued.

"4. If subscribers move to other places without informing the publisher, and the papers are sent the former address, subscribers are held responsible.

"5. The courts have decided that refusing to take periodicals from the office, are removing and having them unsealed for, is prima facie evidence of intentional fraud.

"6. If subscribers pay in advance they are bound to give notice at the end of the time if they do not wish to continue taking it, otherwise the publisher is authorized to send it and the subscriber be responsible until an express notice, with payment of all arrearages, is sent to the publisher.

"7. The latest postal laws are such that a newspaper publisher can arrest any one for fraud who takes a paper and refuses to pay for it. Under the law a man who allows his subscription to run along for some time unpaid and then order it discontinued, or orders the postmaster to mark it 'refused' and have a postal card sent notifying the publisher, leaves himself liable to arrest and fine the same as for theft."

An editor wrote: "We beg the indulgence of our readers for being a little late this week. Our failure to get out on time was the result of the physical demoralization of the editor, caused by sleeping too close to the boarding house window." The cussed compositor set the last word "widow" and the proof reader failed to discover the omission of the letter "n." The editor's trunk is still at the boarding house and he hasn't had a change of shirts or socks for five weeks."

Revs. D. S. Grindle and R. D. Hawkins are this week conducting a revival meeting at the Gainesville Cotton Mills. They have stretched a large tent, which will seat 50 people, and the public is cordially invited to attend the services. Revs. Grindle and Hawkins are splendid preachers, and they will no doubt have a successful revival. —News.

Poor Harold.

"I don't know what to say, Harold," replied the lovely girl, after a long pause says the Chicago Tribune. "There are so many things to be considered. Did you ever care for anybody before you met me?"

"Never Lucy!" fervently responded the young man. "You are the first and only."

"Would you want me to go and live with your people?"

"No; we would have a little cottage of our own."

"You would be tired of me in less than a year."

"I wouldn't tire of you in a thousand years."

"Would you be willing to spend your evenings at home?"

"Every one."

"Men are such tyrants—and I've always been used to having my own way."

"You shall have your own way still."

"You will never tell me I must or mustn't do anything?"

"Never."

"Always let me do just as I please?"

"Absolutely."

"Then I shall have to say no, Harold," the maiden said, tearfully.

"I never could trust myself with such a husband as that."

New Plan for Moonshiners.

The plan of Judge Thos. G. Jones of Huntsville, Ala., for this suppression of the moonshine whisky traffic is having its effects in that section, as was shown by the exceedingly small number of illicit distilling cases on the docket of the United States court just adjourned.

Judge Jones' plan is to impose a fine and sentence of imprisonment upon convicted moonshiners and then suspend the sentence and allow the culprit to go back home. In accepting this grace from the court, the moonshiner pledges himself not to engage in further violations of the law. Should he do so, heavy punishment is threatened, but so far Judge Jones has had no occasion to deal with a man guilty of the second offense. The moonshiner is usually a "man of his word" and it would be disreputable for him to break his pledge in court.

For many years past the wildcaters have considered it a part of the routine of their lives to remain a month in jail after conviction and at the expiration of their terms return at once to the practice, but this practice is most effectually broken up. Moonshining in North Alabama will soon be a lost art if it continues its present rate of decrease. —Chattanooga Times.

Economy.

We cannot give our children no better heritage than a habit of wise economy. Everywhere in nature, as throughout the teachings of our blessed Saviour, we are constantly admonished that nothing must be lost. Out of the abundance of the movement we must make wise provisions for the future. Even though the skeleton hand of want may never touch us or ours, there are many worthy ones to whom these gathered fragments may mean a new lease of life, and strength to go on fighting the discouraging battles of existence. —Marietta Journal.

Knew What He Needed.

The doctor's wife went to the door, says the Chicago Post. The doctor's wife and the woman next door were not on friendly terms, but the tramp didn't know that.

"De lady next door," he said, "give me a piece of her home-made pie, an' I'll ought—"

"I'm sorry," interrupted the doctor's wife, "but the doctor isn't at home just now. However, there's a physician in the next block, and if you hurry he may be able to give you relief before much harm is done."

Daughter Had Frequent Spasms.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure Them Both.

Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure is a specific for nervous disorders. It removes the cause and effects a speedy and permanent cure.

"I feel it my duty to let you know that your medicine have cured my little girl of nine, of spasms. She commenced having them at the age of three. Our family doctor said she would outgrow them but she did not. We took her to another physician who said her trouble was epileptic fits in a mild form. He did her no good either. She was so nervous she could hardly walk. As I had already used Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure and found it a good remedy for myself I commenced giving it to my child. I gave her half tea-spoonful of the Nerve Cure and one of the blood purifier. That was over two years ago and she has not had an attack since we commenced the treatment. She is no longer troubled with nervousness and we consider her permanently cured. I enclose her picture. My mother-in-law better reason and was insane for three months from the effects of LaGrippe. Six bottles of Dr. Miles' Nerve Cure cured her. My sister has also taken it for sick headache with good results. We all thank you very much for your good medicines and kind advice. I don't think there is any other medicine half so good. I send my daughter's photograph so that you may see what a sweet little girl lives out in Kansas." —MRS. HANNAH B. BAXTER, Springdale, Ark.
